flationary Process.

MEYER AND DAWES SPEAK FOR PLAN

Measure Would Release
$750,000,000 in Gold,
Former Declares at Hearing in the House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The Senate Banking Committee quickly gave its approval today to the emergency measure opening the Federal Reserve System for cashing of new paper held by the national banking houses.

Senator Glass (Dem., Va.), is authorized to take his bill immediately before the Senate, and is announced that would be done in the course of the day.

The committee acted after a one-hour executive session during which additional safeguards to protect the Federal Reserve from a new inflationary process were put into the bill.

The Senate committee amended the reserve bill to limit its emergency provision on new paper eligible for discount applicable to individual banks having only a capitalization of $500,000 or less.

The legislation faces prompt enactment in the Senate, but likely will not be taken up until Monday, Speaker Garner promised quick passage consideration.

The House Banking Committee held hearings on the bill to broaden Federal Reserve credit and to take measure under advertisement band closed doors.

The bill is expected by the administration to relieve the national credit strain and take billions of dollars of new paper from the banks, principally the smaller ones, and convert it into negotiable paper.

Three Provisions of Bill.
The measure has three provisions. The first allows for permanent revision of the law to permit Federal Reserve banks to lend to member banks on application of the banks when they have exhausted their rediscountable paper which is now eligible. The five banks must give a promissory note, bound to the satisfaction of the Reserve Board.

The second provision allows small individual banks to obtain loans for one year after they have exhausted their eligible paper upon a promissory note secured by sound security. The Federal Reserve board is to pass judgment on the security.

The third provision makes possible for one year the use of direct government obligations as collateral for Federal Reserve note issued by member banks, thus freeing "free gold" for whatever use may be necessary.

Glass today informed the committee that the member banks of the Federal Reserve System held $150,000,000 of usable assets which they have not rediscounted. However, he smilingly said he would go through with the program agreed at a conference between President Hoover and congressional leaders.

Meyer Before House Group.
Governor Eugene Meyer of the Federal Reserve Board said the bill would release $750,000,000 of gold. He urged the House Banking Committee to act expeditiously on the measure after Charles G. Dawes, president of the Reconstruction Corporation, had outlined his views in executive session.

Meyer said that by making Government bonds and short-term securities acceptable for rediscount purposes, it would be possible for the Federal Reserve banks to issue additional currency. The $2,000,000,000 in Federal Reserve notes now in circulation, he said, is backed by $1,000,000,000 in gold and $900,000,000 in eligible paper.

The absence of eligible paper and the hoarding of currency, Meyer said, "is responsible for the present situation."

He estimated that $1,250,000,000 in currency had been hoarded and said that under present law Federal Reserve currency is backed by 40 per cent in gold and at least 60 per cent in eligible securities. It was not possible to issue additional currency.

Although $750,000,000 in gold would be released, Meyer said, it would still be held by the Federal Reserve banks under the proposed plan.

"The legislation is desirable for the benefit of the entire country," Meyer said. "It would give banks greater confidence, and confidence is an inspiring factor. It would enable them to make available more easily their resources."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—President Hoover, through his aide, opened the observance of Abraham Lincoln's birthday today by causing a wreath to be placed upon the huge marble memorial here to the Civil War President.

After the presidential wreath was put into place within the pillared memorial by Lieutenant-Commander G. A. Polinder, one of the White House naval aides, representatives of various patriotic organizations paid similar tribute.

Many wreaths were placed at the feet of the huge statue of the Civil War President in simple ceremony.

MOVE FOR PEACE AT SHANGHAI BY POWERS' ENVOYS

U. S., British and French Ministers Arrive as 'Mercy' Truce Ends and Firing Is Renewed.

CHAPEL CIVILIANS TAKEN OUT OF ZONE

Priest, Red Cross and Neutral Officials Lead People
From Ruins — Wounded Evacuated.

SHANGHAI, China, Feb. 12.—Guns blazed again across the Chai pei ruins tonight, while the American, British and French Ministers were discussing over their dinner the possibilities of restoring peace.

They had met at the invitation of Nelson T. Johnson, United States Minister to China, who had been asked by the city's Chinese merchants to mediate, with the hope of establishing a permanent peace.

From their dining-room windows on the tenth floor of Hotel Cathay, the diplomats could see the gun flashes along the Japanese and Chinese fronts, and for a while they watched from the windows, then mounted the stairs to a tower, where they watched the fighting through binoculars.

Merchants Seek Peace.
The Chinese merchants had sought an extension of the "mercy" truce, which was in effect four hours, from 8 a. m. until noon, today, for evacuation of noncombatants and wounded soldiers from Chapel.

But this truce was not extended. Japanese consular officials charged that Chinese soldiers had broken the truce by sniping at least five times on Japanese troops who were standing by in accordance with the truce agreement.

Johnson and the other Ministers, who arrived today from Nanking, had their first experience of the Shanghai campaign when their vessels passed through the Whangpoo River near the forts. They saw Japanese destroyers open fire and the cruisers join in.

Johnson said he saw two shells fall in Woosung and immediately fires started. He counted four airplane bombs which dropped in marshes near the fort, but did not explode. When the Ministers passed through the Narrows on the U. S. S. Simpson and the gunboat Bridgewater, the Japanese warships ceased firing long enough to dip their colors.

Japanese airplanes swung through the smoke and mist above Woosung, dropping an occasional bomb, but used none of the 500-pounders which have been brought up. During the afternoon they flew across the Chapel sector, close to the International Settlement boundary, but did not bombing there.

Forty Japanese warships and transports have been jammed into the Yangtze estuary.

Three Thousand Taken Out.
More than 3,000 marooned victims of two weeks of fighting were brought out of Chapel during the four-hour truce, many of them wounded soldiers in ambulances. These were taken to hospitals. The truce was arranged with the Chinese by the British Consul-General and other neutral officials and with the Japanese by Father Jacquot of St. Francis Xavier's College, who lost an arm at Verdun in the World War.

Scarcely had the clocks struck the hour of the time before the rush began. Trucks and taxis crowded into the empty and silent streets in the evacuated district and thousands of Chinese jostled with them in rickshaws and on foot. They had come to retrieve the belongings left behind when they fled before the Japanese occupation.

Many of the vehicles bore Red Cross flags. These headed for the flattened ruins of what once was Chapel. A hurried search for the remaining inhabitants and the wounded began. For an hour the traffic flowed in and then the exodus began.

Father Jacquot, Col. Francis Hayler Bell, the latter's 21-year-old daughter, and a group of 13 French nuns carrying Red Cross flags were among the first to enter for the search.

Wounded Cared for First.
Trucks loaded of wounded soldiers came first, guarded by Japanese bluejackets with bayonets on their rifles. They were sent immediately to hospitals.

Sightseers, including many foreigners, anxious to see at close range the ravages of the fighting, attempted to enter the Chapel zone in spite of the sporadic firing which was going on from snipers' guns, but they retreated when they were met, within a block from the sector, by the Japanese sentries.

Father Jacquot said some civilians were taken out of the zone.

EXAMINERS WOULD LIMIT NUMBER OF EXTRA-FARE TRAINS

Special Exceeds Regular Service Between New York and Midwest, They Tell I. C. C.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Two Interstate Commerce Commission examiners today joined in recommending the limitation of extra fare passenger train service to one-third the number of through trains operated by any one railroad.

The proposed report, written by Examiners A. S. Worthington and M. L. Boat, if adopted by the commission, would have the effect of reducing the number of extra fare services between New York and Chicago and St. Louis.

The examiners have been looking into the extra fare train situation for a year or more. The commission started the inquiry on its own initiative.

The study shows that extra fare through trains between New York and important Middle Western cities outnumber regular through trains substantially. The total eastbound extra fare trains is 93 as against 58 ordinary trains and westbound 99 against 41.

The examiners found that in some instances extra fares were charged on trains requiring passengers to change from one train to another. They recommend that the commission rule against any extra fare for such service.

JUDGE RULES BROWN FAMILY HAS NO EQUITY IN ISLAND

Suit to Quiet Title Brought in Behalf of Minor Children Is Dismissed.

Members of the Brown family, evicted last summer from the island in the Missouri River opposite the 7,000-acre estate of Mrs. Oscar Johnson have no equity in the island, which is owned by Mrs. Johnson, Circuit Judge Woolfolk ruled today in dismissing a suit to quiet title brought in behalf of several minor children of the Browns.

Suit in behalf of the children was tried after Judge Woolfolk had refused to set aside a judgment against the Browns returned in May, 1929. It was claimed that the children had been in adverse possession of the island for 14 years and that "no decree of any kind ever has been returned against them regarding their title to said land."

Judge Woolfolk had taken the case under advisement following a hearing in 1929. The decision was returned, the decision being merely entered on the court records.

Johnson and the other Ministers, who arrived today from Nanking, had their first experience of the Shanghai campaign when their vessels passed through the Whangpoo River near the forts. They saw Japanese destroyers open fire and the cruisers join in.

BISHOP CANNON AND AID FREED ON THEIR DEMURRER

Indictment for Alleged Violation of U. S. Corrupt Practices Act Defective, Court Holds.

NO DECISION GIVEN ON LAW'S VALIDITY

Government to File Appeal
Monday; If This Fails
Case Will Have to Be Abandoned.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The District of Columbia Supreme Court today sustained the demurrers of Bishop James Cannon Jr. and his former secretary, Miss Ada Burroughs, to their indictments on charges of violating the Federal corrupt practices act.

Cannon and Miss Burroughs were indicted on a charge that they had failed to file complete reports of expenditures made in their activities against Alfred E. Smith in the 1928 presidential campaign.

Their demurrer challenged the constitutionality of the corrupt practices act, which requires that such reports be filed with the clerk of the House of Representatives.

In sustaining the demurrer, the Court held that it was unnecessary to pass on the constitutionality of the act, but that the indictment was defective in failing to charge that Miss Burroughs had knowledge of contributions made to the Bishop by E. C. Jameson, a New York broker.

The decision of Justice James M. Proctor, sustaining the demurrer, nullifies the indictment which grew out of a long investigation by a Senate committee of the activities of the Bishop in the 1928 campaign.

John J. Wilson, Assistant United States Attorney, prepared for an immediate appeal from the ruling. He will file it Monday in the District of Columbia Court of Appeals.

The decision is sustained by the Appellate Court the District Attorney's office is expected to drop the case. A new indictment would be impossible because of the statute of limitation.

Justice Proctor said the indictment was bad in all its 10 counts because of failure to allege as facts that contributions of Jameson were "reported and accounted for to Miss Burroughs the treasurer, or that she had knowledge thereof."

The Justice said a person could not be held criminally responsible for failure to report a contribution of which he had no knowledge. To do so, he said, would "call for an unreasonable and harsh construction which is neither warranted by the nature of the act, its language nor its intent."

Given such a meaning a treasurer who has filed a statement honestly and correctly, revealing every contribution known to him, would nevertheless be liable to prosecution because of an inevitable omission of a contribution made for which he had no knowledge, he said. "No such purpose can be attributed to this legislation."

"I am sure that the alternative contention that these counts charge a willful failure by Miss Burroughs to report contributions made for the committee imparts to her knowledge of contributions received by another."

U. S. STEEL GETS $947,000
CREDIT FOR EXCESS TAX

Receives Allowance From Revenue Bureau for Overpayment on Its Income in 1922.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—A credit of $947,000 to the United States Steel Corporation, New York, for overpayment of income tax in 1922 was announced today by the Internal Revenue Bureau. A tax credit is allowed when it is found the taxpayer has paid too much tax in one year and the amount is applied on taxes due in another year.

The credit was due to revision of reported valuations of the opening and closing inventories in the amount of $24,459. The bureau said the decision was reached after an extensive field investigation of the taxpayer's books.

Arthur Bateman, one of the State's pivotal witnesses in the Alexander Berg abduction case, took the witness stand again today in Circuit Judge Owsing's court, where his erstwhile friend and business protégé, Charles Heuer, former convict, is on trial charged with the capital offense of kidnapping for ransom.

Both today and at last night's session, Bateman's testimony was admitted to the record only over the continuous objection of defense counsel, who apparently had discounted prior to the trial the importance of what he had to say and had failed to take his deposition in gathering their pretrial information on the nature and extent of the State's case against Heuer.

Bateman attended the court sessions under guard of Chief of Detectives Kaiser and Assistant Chief Egenriether, who also escorted him to his home at 5747 Queens avenue. He has been under police guard since it developed weeks ago that he was a valuable State's witness.

Most important phase of the Bateman testimony was his statement that he heard George Peak, paroled murderer and alleged "finger man" of the kidnapers, mention the name of Berg prior to the kidnapping with the remark that he "ought to be good for some money." The statement was made to Heuer, he testified.

Bateman's testimony served circumstantially to link Heuer, first of six kidnaping defendants in the case to go to trial, with the abduction of Berg, a wealthy fur dealer, who was seized Nov. 6 and held for more than four days before being released on a still unsatisfied promise of $50,000 ransom.

Heuer Eyes Witness.
Bateman, 36 years old, described himself as operator of a fish market at 5711 Easton avenue and a member of the Fish Dealers' Association of 5704 Easton, with which Heuer had been connected. As he took the stand, Heuer straightened in his chair and eyed him fixedly, his lean jaw muscles flexing visibly and continuously as his former friend testified against him.

Bateman said he had known Peak for six or seven years. Their first meeting was in the City Hall where both were prisoners. After a separation of some years he met him again last September, he testified. On that occasion, he testified, he-smiling more and more obviously unwilling in his testimony as the questioning proceeded, Peak asked Bateman to see Heuer, whom Bateman had known for about a year.

The witness explained that prior to that time Heuer and Edward Barcum, another ex-convict defendant in the kidnaping case, had operated a fish market at 5704 North Leonard avenue, where Bateman had set Heuer in business.

Last autumn, he continued, avoiding Heuer's steady gaze, Heuer told him that business was falling off and that the store was no longer producing a profitable revenue.

Saw Heuer With Peak.
"During that period did you see Heuer and Peak together?" Circuit Attorney Miller asked. "Yes."

"Where?" "At the La Salle Hotel, where Peak lived."

"On what date?" "Oct. 10."

"Will you detail the meeting to the jury?"

"Well, on that day Heuer and I were together."

5 KILLED BY WINDSTORM IN MIDWEST; SEVERE DAMAGE

Three Men Lose Lives at Ashabula, O., When Boat Capsizes In Gale.

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—Winter winds caused at least five deaths, destroyed scores of small structures and severely damaged wire facilities yesterday in the Central States. The disturbance centered over the Great Lakes region.

John Kimvaka, 42 years old; his son, Elmer, 21, and Enoch Arkin, 55, were drowned off Ashabula (O.) harbor when their fishing smack capsized in the face of a gale. At Indianapolis, George Carpenter, 42, was crushed to death unroofed by wind, while reports of other damage came in from Southern Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan.

At Peoria, Ill., a school house was destroyed a few minutes after pupils had been dismissed. No one was in the building at the time.

The wind attained a velocity of 62 miles an hour in Chicago, where 15 buildings were damaged.

Cincinnati, O., reported 50 houses unroofed by wind, while reports of other damage came in from Southern Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan.

ASKS SENATE INQUIRY IN MINE CONDITIONS

Listen M. Oak Tells of Being Driven Out of Kentucky Coal Fields.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—A senatorial investigation of conditions in the mining regions of Bell and Harlan counties, Kentucky, was asked today by a group of Senators by Listen M. Oak, one of the New York writers escorted out of the area yesterday.

Oak spoke after Waldo Frank, chairman of the writers' committee had told of their visit to the State and described it as an attempt to investigate conditions and distribute food among striking miners.

Senator Cutting (Rep.), New Mexico, who presided at the informal hearing, asked by "what authority" the investigation could be undertaken.

Oak replied that "the force of public opinion" and the conditions which he said existed in the region were sufficient authority for such an inquiry.

Frank appeared with his head bandaged with surgical dressing for wounds he said he received when he was expelled from the State.

Frank said the group had attempted to distribute food and had succeeded in giving away a great deal among the miners by putting their trucks outside the city limits. He then said a group of men came to his hotel and told him to pack his suitcases, that he was going to be run out of the State with the other members of the committee.

"I asked to see a local attorney and I was told to shut up," Frank said. "I asked to be permitted to see the other committee members, and again I was told to shut up and pushed into my room and told in abusive language to get out."

He said that when they reached the Kentucky line, he and Allen Tate, an attorney for 11 prisoners held at Pineville, were beaten and then were accused of fighting.

The condition of the people is virtually that of penance," he said. Later in the day, Representative Black (Dem.), New York, introduced a resolution in the House proposing a congressional investigation into alleged lawless conditions in Harlan and Bell counties, Kentucky.

3-MONTH-OLD CHILD FOUND SMOTHERED TO DEATH IN BED

John, 3-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Fuhrman, 2123 Princeton place, Richmond Heights, was found smothered to death in bed last night.

The parents said they investigated a few minutes after they noticed the baby had suddenly ceased crying and found him dead wrapped in bed clothing. Efforts to revive the child by means of an inhalator and stimulants were unavailing.

The coroner's view was that death resulted from "asphyxiation due to bed clothing."

The child's father is a professional football player.

CHURCH REVENUE OFF $400,000

Episcopal House of Bishops Called to Meet Emergency.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—The Right Rev. James Dowling Perry, presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church, has called a special meeting of the House of Bishops April 26, 27 and 28 to consider an emergency in the church's finances. Bishop Perry said it would be necessary to "abandon whole missionary areas" unless the situation were met.

A deficit of $979,000 in the offerings for the $4,225,000 national church budget for 1932 has been disclosed. The deficit was reduced to approximately $400,000 by retrenchment measures, including a 10 per cent cut in the salaries of 3500 workers.

50,000 Acres Sold in Argentina.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Feb. 12.—Fifty-nine thousand acres of choice farm land in the Province of Buenos Aires changed hands today at $22.90 an acre. It was the largest transaction of the kind in several years.

NEW GRAND JURY INDICTS DOG TRACK AND ITS OFFICERS

Madison County True Bills Limited to Kennel Club and Those Directly Associated With It.

New indictments against Richard Wilder of Alton, president of the Madison Kennel Club, other officers of the club, and the club itself were returned today at Edwardsville by a special grand jury convened by Circuit Judge Miller Feb. 5.

Immediately upon the grand jury's report, C. C. Ellison of Alton, special prosecutor appointed to close the dog track, announced that no further indictments will be sought in the dog track cases.

The grand jury report expresses the wish that the indictments be vigorously prosecuted, and not allowed to become dormant. The grand jurors also expressed the opinion that the closing of the track was not the important accomplishment in Madison County.

The outstanding difference between the indictments returned today and those returned by a special grand jury last October only to be quashed last month by Circuit Judge Dove of Shelbyville, is that the new indictments are limited to the club and those associated with it.

Those Not Reindicted.

The original special grand jury, declared void by Judge Dove because it was instructed too specifically by Circuit Judges Miller and Bernreuter and because its venire was not sworn by Sheriff Fitzgerald, indicted State's attorney Bohm for alleged malfeasance in office and conspiracy to run a common gambling house. It indicted also for conspiracy George E. Little, former treasurer and former Sheriff of Madison County, and the Press-Record Publishing Co. of Granite City.

The indictments returned today include one charging Wilder with soliciting E. J. Verlie, an Alton attorney, to offer Circuit Judge Miller a bribe of $25,000 to issue an injunction protecting the track against interference by Madison County officials. A similar indictment was returned by the regular October grand jury, but Ellison indicated the one returned today would be pressed. A trial on either one precludes the other.

Concerning Verlie, the grand jurors' report states: "We wish to commend Mr. Verlie for the courageous and honorable position taken by him under the most trying circumstances. As to his honesty of purpose the grand jury has no doubt."

Other indictments charge the kennel club, Wilder, Daniel O'Neill of St. Louis, club manager, with operating a gambling house; and the same defendants with operating a gambling house. They were indicted also for pool selling and the club was indicted for conducting a lottery.

Those Who Gave Evidence.

Evidence was presented by Ellison and the two assistant prosecutors, Harry Faulkner of Granite City and Henry B. Eaton of Edwardsville. Witnesses included Circuit Judge Bernreuter and Verlie, the latter remaining before the grand jury for about three hours.

"We have done our duty," Ellison said, in announcing he would seek no additional indictments, and we will proceed with the trials as soon as possible.

Ellison indicated he contemplated pressing a citation for contempt issued against the club last summer when it continued to operate despite a restraining injunction issued by Judges Bernreuter and Miller. The track opened under a temporary injunction granted by Circuit Judge Jesse Brown of Alton, protecting the track against interference by Madison County officials.

Issuance of this order precipitated judicial controversy which now reached the courts. The temporary injunction was dissolved by Judge Brown after Judges Miller and Bernreuter had obtained a preliminary injunction from the Missouri State Bar Association, a hearing was set for Feb. 23.

UNEMPLOYED MAN MAKES HIS HOME IN OLD CHIMNEY

Escapes Fire Which Destroys Huts of Others in Colony of Destitute.

An old concrete chimney stack, which was pulled down years ago in an abandoned brick plant at Manchester and Knox avenues, has been made into a living quarters by William Walters, an unemployed laborer, who has had no steady work for more than two years.

The chimney has an inside diameter of 6 feet, its walls are 7 inches thick, and Walters is making his home in a 25-foot section of it. He has walled in one end with stones and chunks of concrete and has closed in the other end with a frame and a door built of old lumber and bricks.

That is why other destitute men of the colony, who made their homes in the abandoned plant, which burned Monday and routed them out of their quarters, came to call him "the chimney-squatter," confining the nesting habits of this bird with the chimney-squatter, which sometimes builds its nest in a chimney.

Walters' front door, the only part of his home that could have been saved, was saved by firemen, who kept it wet. He is the only member of the colony who was not burned out.

Fires fitted the inside of the stack with a bunk, a stove constructed of sheet-iron, a box table, and shelves. The stove pipe leads out above the door. He said he made about $1.25 a week of collecting and selling bottles.

The vats containing the mash took up two floors, three to each. A private telephone system extended through the building with extensions to all departments. Arrows painted on the walls designated the route to the trap doors for emergency and hurried exit.

Shipment, the agent said, was made by tank wagons disguised as milk trucks. A pipe line extended from the alcohol storage tanks to a loading room in the rear, through which the completed product was pumped into the tank wagons.

Barton said 18,000 gallons of alcohol, valued at $72,000 at wholesale prices, were in the storage tanks.

At least two weeks will be necessary to demolish the plant with all available men working on the job, Barton said.

The warehouse occupies the block between Lexington and Saratoga streets near Eutaw Street. It was the same one into which Representative Hamilton Fish led a raiding party more than a year ago during his search for communistic activities throughout the nation. He found nothing.

Peterson and Ribas have donated their services and the entire receipts will go to the charity. Admission tickets will be $1.

RECORD ALCOHOL PLANT SEIZED AT BALTIMORE

Chief Field Agent of Federal Dry Forces Estimates Value at $500,000.

By the Associated Press. BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 12.—Prohibition agents raided a block-long warehouse within half a block of the Federal Court building here today and seized what they termed the largest grain alcohol distillery ever taken by the Government.

John R. Barton, field executive of the prohibition forces who led the raid, valued the plant at more than $500,000. He said he had information which indicated it had been in operation only eight days.

Barton and John H. Wickham, acting administrator here, said that in 12 years' experience, he had never seen as large or so completely equipped a plant.

Pure grain alcohol was the only product of the four-story distillery which was equipped with a copper still with a daily capacity of 20,000 gallons, six 50,000 gallon mash vats, a complete bottling plant, coils and even a laboratory for testing the products.

Five men fled from the building through a trap door in the roof as the agents battered down the doors. They left a fire burning under a heavy duty steam boiler and chemicals bubbling in the laboratory which shared one floor with the coils and coolers of the still.

The vats containing the mash took up two floors, three to each. A private telephone system extended through the building with extensions to all departments. Arrows painted on the walls designated the route to the trap doors for emergency and hurried exit.

Shipment, the agent said, was made by tank wagons disguised as milk trucks. A pipe line extended from the alcohol storage tanks to a loading room in the rear, through which the completed product was pumped into the tank wagons.

REMOVES TRUSTEE FOR BONDHOLDERS OF MAYFAIR HOTEL

Court Holds Interests of M. L. Straus' Firm Conflict With Those of Creditors He Represents.

Mevin L. Straus, a member of S. W. Straus & Co., Chicago investment firm, was removed as trustee for holders of defaulted first mortgage bonds on the Mayfair Hotel yesterday by Circuit Judge Norton, who held that S. W. Straus & Co. has "interests which are in conflict with the interests of the bondholders." His place was filled by former Circuit Judge Ernest A. Green.

The hotel, at Eighth and St. Charles streets, was erected by the Mayfair Investment Co., of which Charles L. Helms is president. Suit asking that a receiver be appointed for another Helms hotel, the Lennox, at Ninth street and Washington avenue, was filed yesterday in Circuit Court.

In a written opinion in the Mayfair case, Judge Norton recalled that S. W. Straus & Co. financed the construction of the hotel through a $1,600,000 issue of mortgage bonds it sold to the public and later caused the formation of a bondholders' protective committee after a default in payment of interest on the bonds. The trustee, the Court held, had co-operated with the committee and S. W. Straus & Co. in promoting a plan of reorganization "which the Court finds is inequitable and detrimental to the rights and interests of the bondholders because it serves to deprive them of the value of their securities."

Holds Plan Inequitable.
"It is of great value to that company," the opinion continues, "to be able to control the hotel and control the property. The plan of reorganization is so constructed as to enable S. W. Straus & Co. to continue to control it."

"There is some evidence that the Mayfair Investment Co. has, or might have, certain claims against S. W. Straus & Co. that as a result of the advantage given under the reorganization plan to the Mayfair Investment Co. have not been asserted and will not be asserted or prosecuted."

The proposed reorganization plan contemplated that the bondholders' protective committee would acquire the property at foreclosure and form a new corporation, the bondholders retaining one-third of its common stock and granting two-thirds to the Mayfair Investment Co. A new first mortgage of $150,000 or $200,000 was to be made, to cover the cost of reorganization and other expenses, and bondholders were then to receive for each $1000 first mortgage bond, a $250 second mortgage bond and a $500 third mortgage bond.

Bondholders who objected to the proposal intervened in the foreclosure suit brought by the bondholders' protective committee and sought the appointment of receivers. A. L. Shapleigh, chairman of the board of Shapleigh Hardware Co., and Oliver T. Remmers, attorney, were appointed receivers last week.

Judge's Reference Unexplained.
Judge Norton's opinion does not explain his reference to claims which the Mayfair Investment Co. may have against S. W. Straus & Co. A public accountant who testified at a hearing in the case last summer was not permitted on the stand to tell what commission S. W. Straus & Co. deducted from the loan, but later said the Mayfair Investment Co. received $89 as the proceeds from each $100 bond. An intervening petition, later dismissed, stated that there was a complicated account of debits and credits between the bond house and the Mayfair Investment Co. into which a receiver should inquire.

Although removing Straus as co-trustee for the Mayfair bondholders, Judge Norton held that the other trustee, William R. Orthwein, St. Louis attorney, should not be disqualified. He will remain associated with Green.

Theodore Rasselour, of counsel for those favoring the plan of reorganization, announced that an appeal would be taken to the Supreme Court if motions for a new trial were denied.

Lennox Hotel Suit.

The suit asking for a receiver for the Lennox Hotel was brought by Leo Jaude, owner of $4000 in first mortgage bonds of the Helms Hotel Co., which holds title to the property. He alleges that holders of $237,500 in second mortgage bonds and the trustee under the first mortgage are preparing to foreclose on the property and that a forced sale, under present market conditions, would result in substantial loss.

The second mortgage went into default Jan. 1, Jaude alleges, when $14,286 in interest was not paid. Taxes for 1931, amounting to $27,000, are delinquent. His petition states that condition constituting a default under the terms of the first mortgage.

The Lennox, a 24-story building containing 400 rooms, was completed in September, 1929, at an announced cost of $2,500,000. The first mortgage bond issue of $1,400,000 was sold to the public through Greenbaum & Sons, Chicago investment firm.

ADMITTS KILLING IN HOLDUP OF ILLINOIS FILLING STATION

Decatur Prisoner Confesses Mattoon Crime When Shown Ballistics Report.

DECATUR, Ill., Feb. 12.—Joseph Dennis, Shelbyville, Ill., confessed late yesterday, police said, that he killed Virgil Swank during a filling station robbery in Mattoon Jan. 24. Dennis, who had denied since his arrest Monday night that he knew anything about the slaying, broke down after authorities had informed him ballistics examination showed his pistol had been used in the killing. "You fellows have been square with me, and I'll be square with you. Yes, I killed Swank," police quoted Dennis as saying. Swank was shot to death in front of his wife when he resisted a holdup at his filling station a short distance from Mattoon. Dennis was arrested Monday night as he was holding up a filling station and his pistol was seized for ballistics examination.

BECKER'S CHOICE FOR YOUNG G. O. P. POST IS DEFEATED

Congressman Hopkins of St. Joseph Is Elected President of Missouri Association.

WINTER BACKED HIM FOR PLACE

Secretary of State Supported Mercer Arnold of Joplin Who Was Beaten by Vote of 22 to 10.

By CURTIS A. BEYER.
Secretary of State Charles U. Becker suffered a decisive defeat today in the election of Congressman David Hopkins of St. Joseph to the presidency of the Association of Young Republicans of Missouri. Hopkins had the support of Lieutenant-Governor Winter, Becker's opponent for the Republican nomination for Governor, while Becker placed his influence behind Mercer Arnold of Joplin.

The election was held by the 22 vice presidents of the association, two from each of the 16 old congressional districts.

The third candidate, Maurice Covert of Houston, who had divided the support of the Winter followers with Hopkins, withdrew before the balloting began and the Winter strength became unanimous for Hopkins. The vote was 22 to 10 for Arnold and 10 to 2 for Covert.

Ray Weightman of Mound City, an Assistant Attorney-General, was elected treasurer, and Mrs. Jeanette Bruce of Cape Girardeau, secretary.

Authorization by the Republican State Committee yesterday of the appointment of a sub-committee to be headed by Arthur M. Curtis, chairman of the State Committee, to investigate allegations of gross corruption in elections in Kansas City and to devise a plan to combat election frauds there, marked the beginning of a determined challenge of the Republican State organization to the Pendergast organization of Jackson County.

The subcommittee will investigate the recent Kansas City election returns, collate the evidence of alleged frauds and confer with Gov. Caulfield as to means to prevent the registration of fraudulent names. Action was taken by the committee on motion of former Lieutenant-Governor Bennett of Springfield, following a vigorous denunciation of Kansas City election methods and of the Pendergast organization by Curtis.

The State Chairman charged that in the 1930 election not less than 25,000 "ghost votes" were counted for the Democratic candidates. "If it takes the strong arm of the Federal Government to bring honest elections in Kansas City, let's have it. If it takes the power of the militia, let's have it," chairman Curtis said to the committee with vehemence.

"Vandal Political Machine." "There was a time when St. Louis was the citadel of graft elections in Missouri," he said, "but there has never been a charge of dishonesty in elections here since the Republicans have been in control of the Government in St. Louis. Dishonest elections have left St. Louis but there now exists in Jackson County the most corrupt and vandal political machine America has ever seen. I don't believe that Tammany has anything on the Pendergast machine."

"A member of the Kansas City Board of Election Commissioners has asserted that in the last election not less than 25,000 'ghost votes' were registered in Kansas City."

"This is far from a purely local Kansas City matter. It is of vital interest to every citizen of Missouri, yes, of every citizen in the country. Organized fraud in Kansas City can thwart the will of the honest citizenry of the State in the election of State officials. It is easily conceivable that it might actually control the election of a President of the United States. Missouri's 15 electoral votes might decide the presidential election, and if fraud determines who those electors shall be, fraud might defeat a candidate elected by honest votes."

"We must clean up that dishonest, scandalous ring."

"It will be a sorry day for the citizens of Missouri if the Government of the State is turned over to the political ring in Kansas City."

The appointment of the subcommittee was enthusiastically approved by William E. Byers, chairman of the Jackson County Republican Central Committee, who said that in election after election the Republicans have been swamped by fraudulent votes.

Bearing on State Primary. It is the plan of the State Committee that the Kansas City investigation shall be made immediately and that safeguards be placed about the registration of voters for the elections. Curtis said after the committee adjourned that prevention of fraud in the registration is the most important step and would be given first attention. Other Republicans pointed out that success in this step might have a most important bearing on the result of the Democratic State primary.

 WAXAHACHIE, Tex., Feb. 12.—Sheriff B. Marshall Jr., former sheriff of Dallas County, was acquitted of burglary yesterday on a verdict directed by Judge Tom Marshall and three other jurors. Marshall was charged with attempting to rob the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Ferris, Tex., Nov. 17. Several State witnesses refused to answer questions and repudiated statements they were said to have made before the grand jury. The evidence was limited to the testimony of C. T. James of Ferris that Bud Mace, Roy Thornton and N. H. McBride told the grand jury Marshall was implicated in the crime. Mace, his wife, and Thornton were charged with perjury.
 William Hodge Realty $163,110. GREENWICH, Conn., Feb. 12.—The estate of William Hodge, playwright and actor, was left to his widow, Mrs. Mary Dale Hodge, under the terms of his will admitted for probate here yesterday. The will disposes of real estate valued at $163,110 and personal property estimated to "exceed $1000." Hodge died in his home here Jan. 30.

BECKER'S CHOICE
FOR YOUNG G. O. P.
POST IS DEFEATED
 A leader among the supporters of Secretary of State Charles U. Becker, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, denounced the Pendergast organization in a speech before the Republican Editorial Association at the American Hotel. Mann's speech, however, was largely an attack on Gov. Caulfield, who he charged had not co-operated in the war on Pendergast. The Governor refused in the last election to order policemen to the polls.
 William Sacks, a Becker leader in St. Louis, threw the committee into confusion late in the afternoon by a proposal that the committee should prepare a slate of 13 candidates for Congress and attempt to control the nomination of Congressional candidates in the primary. Sacks said the present Republican Congressmen, Hopkins, Dyer, Niedringhaus and Manlove, should be placed on the slate, that one additional candidate be picked from St. Louis, and that the remaining eight should be chosen from outside St. Louis according to imaginary districts conforming generally to the districts set out in the redistricting bill vetoed by Gov. Caulfield.
 Rural committeemen voiced strong objections to any attempt by the committee to control nomination, insisting that the law provided for nominations by primary and that an attempt by the party organization to control the primary would be strongly resented by the voters.
Threat of Wet Slate.
 Sacks in effect threatened that if some such plan was not carried out a slate would be made in St. Louis, which in all probability would be an entire wet slate, and that because of the huge vote in St. Louis, it would be likely to win in the primary.
 "I can say that St. Louis is determined to have representation in Congress," Sacks said. "It has no desire to have all the representation from Missouri. But with the necessity for nominations at large, there is virtually certain to develop a bitter wet and dry fight. St. Louis is entitled to three Congressmen. My suggestion is that the slate should contain the names of Dyer and Niedringhaus and one other from St. Louis, and the remaining 10 should be from outside St. Louis."
 "This city is bound to have three wet Congressmen from the city. The Republicans here would be willing to support some from outside the city who are not wet. But if we do not have that opportunity, the State will be faced with the possibility of a St. Louis-made slate which probably would have 15 wets on it."
 Several of the rural committeemen suggested that a slate of some kind might be advisable in view of the situation created by the fact that nominations must be made at large, and admitted that it might be advisable for the candidates to present their claims to the State convention and for the convention, made up of delegates from all counties, to endorse 13.
 The discussion was not at all to the liking of the party leaders, who considered it fraught with danger to the party, and it was cut short by a motion to adjourn, which was carried overwhelmingly.
Convention April 12.
 The committee decided that the State convention to name 15 presidential electors, and 41 delegates with a total of 56 votes, to the Republican national convention, should be held in St. Louis April 12. Springfield also was an applicant for the convention, but the committee decided by a vote of 42 to 11 to have it in St. Louis.
 The Republican activities conclude today with the meeting of the Young Republicans' Association and the annual Lincoln Day banquet at Hotel Jefferson this evening.
 Former United States Senator Henry J. Allen of Kansas will be the principal speaker at the banquet. Short addresses will be delivered by Gov. Caulfield, Chairman Curtis and Mrs. Grace Sample Burlingham, national committeewoman.
Editors Ask Governor to Prevent Frauds in Kansas City.
 A resolution calling on Gov. Caulfield to prevent repetition of alleged wholesale election frauds in Kansas City was adopted by the Republican Editorial Association of Missouri at its annual meeting at the American Hotel yesterday.
 The association heard Homer Mann of Kansas City, who addressed the Republican State Committee on the same subject here yesterday, repeat a speech he made in Kansas City recently, denouncing the Pendergast Democratic machine. Mann complained that Gov. Caulfield, who appoints the Kansas City Election Board, had permitted the practice of Democratic election frauds through an order to the Republican police force to stay out of politics.
 This nonpolitical policy is serving to increase the Jackson County Democratic majority, Mann declared, "because a gang of political bandits are riding high, wide and handsome in our city." Mann charged that non-citizens, floaters and others not entitled to vote had cast 25,000 to 30,000 ballots in two elections in 1920. Mann also asserted that some of the Republican judges and clerks of election in Kansas City were "weak, crooked or complacent."
 William E. Byers, chairman of the Jackson County Republican Committee, said his party was seeking only honest registration, election and counting. Similar assertions were made by Chairman Curtis of the Republican State Committee and Henry Depping, retiring president of the Association of Young Republicans. Mann said his statements had been approved by Republican National Committee.

man Clements and Secretary of Agriculture Hyde.
 The Republican Editorial Association continues to be friendly to the political cause of Secretary of State Becker, who is seeking the nomination for Governor, it was demonstrated repeatedly. Becker was present for a time, but did not speak. Later, his rival for the nomination, Lieutenant-Governor Winter, a newspaper publisher, also was a silent visitor. The rural newspapers are beneficiaries of official printing at Becker's hands.
 The association endorsed the proposed State old-age pension amendment and opposed a suggested law to prohibit public utilities from selling merchandise. George B. Harlan of Pilot Grove was elected president to succeed Oliver B. Davis of Mansfield. Charles Meler of St. Louis, editor of The Politician, was made vice president in place of Harlan. Charles W. Fear, an employee of Becker, and Mrs. Dora Hollenbeck Farley of West Plains were re-elected secretary-treasurer and recording secretary, respectively.

Sues to Annul Mexican Marriage.
By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 12.—Albert P. Wilson, movie stunt flyer, was made defendant yesterday in a marriage annulment action filed by Mrs. Marjorie Wilson. She says their wedding Nov. 5, 1929, at Agua Caliente was illegal because they had not been residents of Mexico for the required three months. They have a 16-month-old son. Mrs. Wilson's 18-year-old daughter by a previous marriage, Betty Sellars, was married at the same Agua Caliente ceremony to Wilson's partner in aviation and business, Frank B. Tomick.

SENATOR JOHNSON DEMANDS AID FOR 'COMMON PEOPLE'

SENATOR JOHNSON DEMANDS AID FOR 'COMMON PEOPLE'

Calls Reconstruction Finance Corporation an Example of Socialism for Banks and Railroads.

By RAYMOND P. BRANDT, Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Describing the $2,000,000,000 Reconstruction Finance Corporation as an example of socialism for banks and railroads, Senator Hiram Johnson (Rep., California), today appealed to his Republican colleagues to "step over the line and have Socialism for just ordinary human beings" by voting for the $375,000,000 La Follette-Costigan relief bill.

The fiery Californian declared that Senators of his party, although priding themselves on their individualistic philosophy, had voted $500,000,000 to the Federal Farm Board to put the Government in business, and had postponed $250,000,000 of World War debts to bolster the short-term credits of the international bankers. The latest demonstration of the administration's concern for "the people at the top," he continued, was the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

"When big business carries us into the socialistic field," he shouted, "why can't we listen to the cries of the undernourished, consumptive children and the pleas of starving mothers? Why can't we do something in the name of humanity for the inarticulate masses of men, women and children, who in dirt and grime furnish the driving power of our great governmental machine?"

Sentiment Increasing.
After Johnson had finished, Senator McNary offered a unanimous consent agreement for a vote on the relief bill by 5 o'clock Monday afternoon. The agreement also provided for a limitation of debate. Advocates of the bill say that sentiment for the measure is increasing with each day's delay. Several Senators objected to the agreement, and the Senate recessed until Monday noon.

Johnson was lavish in his praise of Senators La Follette and Costigan for the conduct of the relief hearings. He declared that even if the present bill were defeated the labors of the two progressives would bear fruit in later legislation.

Sarcastic and deadly serious by turns, Johnson castigated the administration Senators like Fess of Ohio and Reed of Pennsylvania, who declared there was no analogy between the Finance Corporation legislation and the relief proposal. He insisted that the measures were parallel and that the Senators who had voted funds for business could not logically oppose direct relief to individuals.

"A whispered request from the top," he declared, "is quickly obeyed, a legitimate cry from below is ignored."

Belief Now Shattered.
"On this side of the chamber it is generally believed that individualism alone shall control, but the gentlemen who tenaciously have held to such belief now find it is shattered by the inexorable logic of events."

Referring to an assertion by Senator Reed that "everything is sound except that we are in a stew of panic that cannot last," Johnson said if that were true, "then repeal your reconstruction act."

"There never was such an act passed in peace time," he said. "Repeat it if there is no panic. The very fact that it was enacted and the fashion in which it was enacted demonstrates there must be some kind of relief—not only to the banker and the railroad people, but relief to God's common people of this land."

Johnson recalled that he had opposed enactment of the Federal Farm Board bill and approval of the Hoover moratorium.

Farm Board and Moratorium.

"When I spoke against the Farm Board legislation, predicting that it would compete with private business," Johnson said, "I was accused of idle, vain fulminations. Members of my party declared that they would not permit the Government to go into business in competition with private initiative. What has happened? The Farm Board has gone into the Chicago wheat pit and was taken in by smart lads. It went into the cotton market and lost more of the Government money. The board seemed to think it had been commanded to waste a couple of hundred million dollars."

"Talk about $375,000,000 for relief of human distress. Two months ago I opposed, almost alone, the $250,000,000 moratorium for relief of the international bankers. That moratorium only permitted the short-term credits here and abroad to be paid. Apparently it is all right to dip into the treasury for everything—that is, for everything except human beings."

Sensors objecting to a vote on the bill by 5 p. m. Monday indicated they had several amendments which would lead to debate. Another possible compromise is receiving the consideration of those leading the movement for Federal aid. Offered by Senator Wagner (Dem.), New York, it proposes to advance relief funds to the states out of future road appropriations. The Wagner bill would give $275,000,000 to the states for relief and reimburse the Federal Treasury by cutting down highway appropriations beginning with 1937.

Is Freedom Worth More Than Love?

FAITH BALDWIN believes that many modern young women have developed a "skyscraper viewpoint" on life. Independence and a business career mean more to them than romance and marriage.

When this type of girl falls in love and the inevitable conflict with ambition occurs, intensely dramatic situations are bound to follow.

What happened to one modern girl who had to face this problem is told in a love story that equals The Office Wife in compelling interest.

RULES ON FARM LOANS UNDER U. S. CREDIT ACT

$400 Individual Limit on Aid From Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—
 Regulations placing a $400 limit on individual loans to farmers from the $50,000,000 set aside for 1932 crop production under the Reconstruction Finance Corporation act were announced by the Agriculture Department yesterday.

Farmers who apply for loans, which are available in every State except Connecticut and Pennsylvania, will be required to give first mortgages on their crops and pay a five and one-half per cent interest rate. Connecticut and Pennsylvania state laws make no provision for such mortgages.

Southern cotton and tobacco planters can not obtain loans on more than 65 per cent of their 1931 acreage unless they planted less than 10 acres of cotton or three acres of tobacco. A heavy surplus of both crops exist, and efforts have been made to reduce production by voluntary action and by state laws.

Loans to tenants of any one land owner in a single county will be limited to $100. Committees will be set up in each county to pass on applications, and loans will be made from eight regional offices.

Congress last year made a total of $57,000,000 available for drought and storm sufferers and for organizing agricultural credit corporations. About $55,000,000 was lent.
 The 1932 loans were intended primarily for farmers in sections where credit has become stringent due especially to bank failures.

In counties where fertilizer is not commonly used the maximum loan an acre under the new regulations will be $3 for all crops except truck crops, which will be $12.
 Where fertilizer is needed, the maximum loan will be $6, except on tobacco and truck crops. In these cases $10 will be allowed for tobacco and $20 for truck crops.

No more than $1 an acre of loans may be used for repairs and miscellaneous expenses of crop production other than seed, fertilizer, feed for work stock and fuel and oil for tractors. No part of the loan may be used to pay debts or taxes. Special provision is made for the purchase of sprays or dusts to combat insects and plant diseases.

The eight regional offices will be at Washington, Minneapolis, St.
 Louis, Memphis, Dallas, Salt Lake City, Spokane and Grand Forks.
 N. D. Many applications are expected to come from the Grand Forks area, where the drought was severe last summer.

ORDERS HEARING ON OPERATION OF NATURAL GAS CO.

State Board, on Own Motion Cites Missouri Industrial, From Which Laclede
Plans to Buy Fuel.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 12.—An investigation to determine whether the Missouri Industrial Gas Co. of St. Louis, a distributing company which sells natural gas to industrial users in St. Louis, is a public utility and subject to the Missouri public utility regulatory laws, was ordered by the Missouri Public Service Commission Wednesday on its own motion. The commission ordered the company to appear Feb. 23 for a hearing.

The Missouri Industrial Gas Co. is a subsidiary of the Utilities Power & Light Corporation of Chicago, which also controls the Laclede Gas Light Co. of St. Louis.

Action of the Commission in citing the Missouri Industrial Co. to show cause why it should not be subjected to State regulation was forecast in the Post-Dispatch following a hearing by the Commission Wednesday on the application of the Laclede Gas Light Co. for authority to mix natural gas with the artificial gas it sells in St. Louis and for approval of a new schedule of rates for the mixed gas.

One Subsidiary Sells to Another. That hearing developed that the Laclede was to buy natural gas from its affiliated company, which in turn would buy the natural gas from the Mississippi River Fuel Corporation, a pipe line company which brings natural gas to St. Louis from Louisiana. The Missouri Industrial Co., according to the testimony, would buy the natural gas from the pipe line company at 26 cents a thousand cubic feet and sell it to Laclede at 26 cents a thousand cubic feet, plus carrying charges, which would bring the price up to 23.3 cents a thousand cubic feet.

The Missouri Industrial Gas Co. had a contract with the Mississippi River Fuel Corporation for the purchase of natural gas to be resold to various industrial users in St. Louis, but, while its operations are intrastate in character, it never has applied to the Public Service Commission for a certificate of convenience and necessity to carry on its operations. It has not filed its rate schedules, and the Commission has no information concerning its contracts with users, other than the proposed service to the Laclede Co.

Commission Explains Action. The Commission acted in its order that it appeared necessary and desirable that an investigation be made into the relationship between the Laclede and Missouri Industrial Gas Co. and the relationship with other customers of the Missouri Industrial, as well as into the methods in which the Missouri Industrial was doing business.

In the hearing Wednesday witnesses for the Laclede Co. testified the Missouri Industrial Co. was controlled by the Utilities Power & Light Corporation, parent company of the Laclede Gas Light Co. It was stated that if the commission was not satisfied with the proposed arrangement by which the Laclede Co. would buy natural gas from the Missouri Industrial, its affiliated company, the Laclede Co. was "perfectly willing" to take over the Missouri Industrial property and operate it, and to take natural gas direct from the Mississippi River Fuel Corporation.

Under State Regulation. The Missouri Industrial Gas Co. another subsidiary of the Utilities Power & Light Corporation, buys natural gas from the Mississippi River Fuel Corporation, and resells it to several towns in Southeastern Missouri, in which the Missouri Natural Gas Co. has obtained franchises. The Missouri Natural Gas Co. has regularly applied to the Public Commission for certificates to operate in towns in which it has obtained franchises, has filed its rate schedules with the commission and has submitted to State regulation.

The Missouri Natural Gas Co. now pays the pipe line company from 40 to 42 cents a thousand cubic feet for gas it purchases to be resold in towns it serves under a contract which provides increases in these prices, from time to time, up to a maximum of 48 cents a thousand cubic feet in 1944.

FINDS NO EVIDENCE ATHEISM IS TAUGHT IN TEXAS COLLEGE
By the Associated Press.
LUBBOCK, Tex., Feb. 12.—Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Technological College, said yesterday he had been unable to find evidence atheism was taught in the State-supported school.

The statement was made after conferences with the Rev. R. C. Campbell, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Lubbock, who had asserted in a sermon certain professors were teaching atheism.

"If the matter goes no further, good will come of it," said the Rev. Mr. Campbell.

Dr. Horn said atheism was charged against only one faculty member. That charge, he said, grew out of a talk before a club of adults in which the atheistic movement of Soviet Russia allegedly was termed a "mole experiment."

"Even in this case," said Dr. Horn, "the accused man claims his remarks were wholly misunderstood and were not of the nature charged."

Three Chicago Men Plead Guilty and Get 14-Year Sentences.

By the Associated Press.

TALLULAH, La., Feb. 12.—Jack Doud, Benny Capone and John Kovich, all of Chicago, were sentenced yesterday to 14 years' imprisonment after pleading guilty of looting the Madison State Bank of $53,000 last Tuesday. Judge F. X. Ransell pronounced sentence and the men were on their way to the State penitentiary within a few moments.

The three fled from town after robbing the bank, but posmen captured them on a highway a short time later.

APPARATUS DEvised FOR WEIGHING ATOMS

Two-Ton Magnetic Scale Dis-closes Several Kinds of Gold.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Completion of a two-ton scale that weighs single atoms is announced by the American Institute of Physics.

An atom weighs about one sextillionth of an ounce. Yet this invisible bit of matter swings the pointer of the new scale about half an inch. The device is at the Bartol Foundation, Swarthmore, Pa.

The pointer is a stream of electrified atoms, called ions, shot out of a vacuum tube into a magnetic field between two immense magnets, whose size accounts for the great weight of the scale. The atoms rise into the magnetic field, curve over to one side and fall straight down. They are caught on a photographic plate.

The heavier particles shoot higher and curve wider, so that they fall farther out. Thus a large atom will land farther out on the sensitized plate than a small one.
Each one will leave a black mark where it strikes. The distance between these black marks show the varying atomic weights. Several kinds of gold atoms have been found. The scientific term for the weight differences is isotopes.

The weight variations are due to differences in the composition of the nucleus of the atom.

The scales were built by Dr.
Kenneth T. Bainbridge and modeled after a device made in England by Dr. F. W. Aston, called the precision mass spectrograph.

New Rails for Mo. Pac. in Texas.
Laying of 55 miles of new rail on Texas properties of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, to start immediately, has been announced by L. W. Baldwin, president of the Missouri Pacific. The largest portion of the work is a 25-mile section on the south end of the line between Houston and Brownsville. Another eight miles is on the north end of the International-Great Northern and the remaining two miles is on the San Antonio, Uvalde & Guadalupe line.

U. S. DOLLAR DROPS IN PARIS
PARIS, Feb. 12.—The United States dollar dropped on the Paris exchange today from yesterday's quotations of 25.40 cents to 25.35. Emphasizing that the drop had no relation to the Glass-Steagall banking bill, introduced in Congress yesterday, American circles explained that the drop was attributable to a change in minting charges. They said the Bank of France had increased the gold minting charge from 22 francs a kilogram to 44 francs a kilogram, effective Feb. 15. (A kilogram is 2.2 pounds.)

DEATH FOR TWO WHO KILLED POLICEMAN IN SPEAKEASY Men in New York City Holdup Are Convicted of First Degree Murder.
NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Joseph Brown, 20 years old, and Charles Marks, 21, Chicago, were convicted yesterday in General Sessions of first degree murder for the slaying on June 9 of Police Sergeant William H. O'Shaughnessy in a speakeasy holdup in Lenox avenue. The verdict carried the death penalty, which will be imposed by Judge Morris Koenig on Feb. 25.

Six State witnesses identified the pair as perpetrators of the holdup and ballistics experts said the bullets in O'Shaughnessy's body were of the same caliber as those in pistols found in their possession. Both men admitted being in the place but said they had drunk so heavily they did not remember the robbery or the shooting.

336 Holdup at Restaurant.
John Curran, proprietor of a restaurant at 16 South Broadway, was robbed of $30 early today by two men, one wearing smoked glasses and carrying a revolver, who forced him into a back room.

MRS. ARNOLD H. KEGEEL and GERALD LEE.

WOMAN TO SURRENDER IN POISONING OF MAID
Counsel for Mrs. Arnold H. Kegeel, Chicago, Says Charge Is 'Frameup.'
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—While police prepared today to intensify their hunt for Mrs. Arnold H. Kegeel, wife of a former City Health Commissioner, and watched the homes of her friends and relatives, her counsel announced she would surrender and face accusations that she poisoned her former servant. Mrs. Kegeel was reported to be in a sanitarium.

The attorney, Leo A. O'Reilly, declared Mrs. Kegeel was in a state of nervous collapse from the news that the grand jury indicted her for attempting to murder by poison, and would give herself up as soon as she was physically able. He termed the charges a "frame-up."

Counsel for Gerald Lee, a grocer's clerk, accused the police of using third degree methods to obtain a statement from Lee in which Assistant State's Attorney Charles J. Mueller said the clerk admitted seeing Mrs. Kegeel place "powder" in a soda served the maid, Mrs. Mary Ryan, who is seriously ill supposedly from the effects of poison. Lee was released on bond last night when the indictments were returned in court.

GRAFT CHARGES DENIED BY NEW YORK SHERIFF

In Letter to Gov. Roosevelt He Says Seabury Distorted His Testimony.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Sixty-two pages of Sheriff Thomas M. Farley's denial to charges by Samuel Seabury that he committed grand larceny in his conduct of office were made public by the Sheriff's attorney yesterday.

The denial, in the form of a letter to Gov. Roosevelt, charge Seabury with distorting and misstating the Sheriff's testimony that he "accumulated over $100,000 in cash which he kept in a tin box in his home."

Farley, on the stand before the committee, admitted he kept for himself interest on money he held officially as Sheriff. His letter today set forth he did this "on advice of his official counsel."

"It is my intention to protect that as my money," he stated, "until it is authoritatively decided by the courts that the advice I have received is not correct."

Farley said the "tin-box" expression, which has become a by-word here for quips on the stage, was Seabury's, not his.

"Judge Seabury exhausted his superior ability and his great ingenuity," wrote Farley, "in a determined effort to show an atmosphere of levity about my testimony, adopting and forcing me to adopt his own descriptive language, and endeavoring to hold up to ridicule the very same language which he alone originated."

The Sheriff denied there was professional gambling in his political clubhouse. He denied he was "incompetent and unqualified to hold office."

He complained of Seabury's methods and motives in conducting the investigation, pointing out that some of Seabury's letters, written "as an individual and wholly upon his own initiative," were sent out on official stationery of the Legislative Committee. He charged Seabury had made the investigation a "purely partisan campaign" against the Democratic administration.

Farley's trial on charges of grand larceny, which grew out of his testimony at the Hofstadter hearings, is set for Feb. 22.

DONALD RICHBERG ATTACKS WILKERSON'S NOMINATION

Before Senate Committee Charges Chicago Judge With "Intolerable Use of Injunctive Power."

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Judge James H. Wilkerson of Chicago was charged today with "an intolerable use of the injunctive power" at a hearing before a Senate Judiciary Committee considering his nomination for Circuit Judge.

Donald Richberg, representing the Railway Labor Executives' Association and the American Federation of Labor, added that the future of labor organizations may depend on whether such "extremes" as Wilkerson are made Judges.

He said Wilkerson, in a series of cases brought against the Musicians' Union in Chicago in 1923, issued restraining orders which "appeared to forbid men who had to contract of employment from leaving their employment without the consent of their employers."

He said he and other lawyers took the risk of being cited for contempt by advancing the workers they need not comply with the order.

"We were forced to take this responsibility," he said, "or else see an organization of workers made helpless by an outrageous abuse of judicial power."

Calling attention to legislation now before the Senate to restrict the use of injunctions in labor disputes, Richberg said: "To pass a law restraining unfair judges from abuses of power and then at the same time to place on the bench and to promote Judges notorious for their intolerance of such restraints, is in effect, to enact a law to curb tyranny and then select a tyrant to enforce it."

PHILADELPHIA TO SEIZE RENTS FOR BACK TAXES

Delinquencies Total $20,000,000—New Collection Method Will Begin Monday.

By the Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 12.—Seizure of rents to liquidate delinquent taxes will be started by the city Monday, Arthur D. Brenner, receiver of taxes announced today. Forty-three collectors will begin the work in the business district on this plan to cut down the total of delinquent taxes which, with school levies, now is $20,000,000. The rents will be impounded under law passed in 1923. Superintendents, managers and owners of buildings on which taxes are delinquent have been notified of the city's plan. More than $2,000,000 in delinquent taxes have been collected since Jan. 4, Brenner said, $500,000 more than for the same period last year. An ordinance designed to speed up the payment of current taxes was approved by the city council and signed by Mayor Moore. It provides for an extension from Feb. 10 to Feb. 29 of the time limit in which a 3 per cent discount is allowed.

UNION ELECTRIC NET INCOME DECLINES 1.3 PCT IN 1931

Decrease in Gross Revenue 4.9 Pct., According to Statement in Magazine.
A decrease of 4.9 per cent in the gross revenue of Union Electric Light & Power Co. and subsidiaries for 1931 as compared with 1930 is shown by a financial statement published in the Union Electric Magazine. The decrease in net income available for dividends and surplus, however, was only 1.3 per cent. Total revenues of the Union Electric system in 1931 were $31,030,497, compared with $32,535,447 in 1930. The balance for dividends and surplus, after payment of operating expenses, taxes, depreciation and interest on borrowed capital, was $9,415,624 in 1931 and $9,541,944 in 1930. The gross return earned by the company in 1931 before payment of interest was $13,994,994, as compared with $14,716,059 in 1930. Interest and miscellaneous charges in 1931 were $4,579,370, preferred dividends of subsidiaries were $1,020,287 and payments to minority interests were $6735. The preferred stock dividends were $470,000. Nearly all of the company's common stock is owned by the North American Edison Co., a North American Co. subsidiary. The annual report to stockholders, giving details of the business for 1931 has not been issued, but will be out in the next few weeks.

Stinson Ready to Go to Geneva
If Needed.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Secretary of State Stinson said today he was holding himself in readiness to go to Geneva and attend the disarmament conference, if it becomes clear that his presence there would do any good. He said, however, that he did not intend going unless it seemed his attendance would serve some good purpose.

Foreign Minister Zuleta, at Geneva, Favors Limitation of Stocks of Military Supplies.

ITALY AND FRANCE REOPEN PARLEY
Seek to Settle Their Naval Dispute—Said to Hope for Extension of London Treaty.

By the Associated Press.
GENEVA, Feb. 12.—Luis Zuleta, Foreign Minister of Spain, proposed total abolition of military aviation and internationalization of civil aviation to the world disarmament conference today, in an address outlining Spain's suggestions. He also joined the spokesmen of the great Powers in urging the outlawing of all armaments of an aggressive nature. He asked the conference to amend the draft convention setting out the procedure of the conference by inserting a provision for the limitation of war materials in stock and for publicity for war materials acquired.

The Spanish Government, he said, recommended, limitation of new war vessels to 10,000 tons with eight-inch guns as the maximum, and the limitation of submarines to 1000 tons.

The conference, he said, should adopt a treaty for the control of international traffic in arms and a treaty for international and national control of private and state manufacture of arms and munitions.

Foreign Minister Edvard Benes of Czechoslovakia accepted the proposals made by Andre Tardieu of France last week and endorsed the draft convention as the basis of the conference work. "We must determine not to separate finally," he said, "until we have signed the first convention for limitation and reduction of armaments."

"The essential condition for success," he said, "is confidence among ourselves and in international institutions." Czechoslovakia, he added, would agree to supervision of effectiveness of armaments and manufacture of offensive weapons on a more comprehensive scale than is provided for in the draft convention. His government, he said, would pledge reductions in the period of army service, in agreement with other powers, and his delegation would consider the possibility of reducing the army budget.

P. Munch, Danish Foreign Minister, proposed that equality of armaments between victor and vanquished nations be reached by a gradual disarmament and budgetary limitation. He advocated total prohibition of offensive weapons and opposed the French plan for an armed international police force under the League of Nations.

Direct negotiations between Italy and France to settle their naval disarmament differences have been reopened through their delegations, it was disclosed today. It was authoritatively stated the negotiators hoped their conversations would lead to an extension of the London naval treaty and provide a basis for further naval disarmament for all Powers.

Tardieu, French Minister of War, and Dino Grandi, Foreign Minister of Italy, have already met to discuss the problem, and decided to place the negotiations on the basis of the abortive 1930 agreement made by Italy, France and Great Britain. French and Italian naval experts are continuing the discussions.

The main point to be settled, it was found, was replacement of ships becoming obsolete. It was this point that wrecked the 1930 treaty. The French, who have a proportionately large number of ships soon becoming obsolete, maintained their right to replace them, but the Italians objected as their navy was proportionately more modern.

The present conversations are confined to the naval issue, but may lead to an agreement for reduction of land and air forces also. It was thought the Italian threats of parity with any other continental nation may be met, as it was in the naval agreement of last March, that is, by approximate parity, gradually to be arrived at in some future year.

PARIS, Feb. 12.—The Chamber of Deputies today voted overwhelmingly to give suffrage to women but its action must also be approved by the Senate, where concurrence is thought by many to be doubtful.

The suffrage measure was adopted as an amendment to the electoral reform bill, which was passed by vote of 311 to 0. Deputy de Monzi's suffrage amendment, which would permit women to run for seats in the chamber and to vote for chamber candidates, was adopted, 313 to 1.

The reform bill, which must also be approved by the Senate before final adoption, provides for discontinuance of second elections where no majority was obtained in the first. Under it members of the GENEVA, Feb. 12.—China appealed today for a special meeting of the League of Nations Assembly to consider its charges against Japan. Dr. W. W. Yen, head of the delegation here, got his request in the last day on which it could have been filed, the League regulations providing that such a request must be presented within two weeks of the time at which the problem under consideration is submitted to the League Council.

Dr. Yen invoked Articles X and XV of the League Covenant in a renewed protest to the Council on Jan. 29.

It appeared likely, however, that the Assembly would not be called for several days, and, meanwhile, the 12 neutral members of the Council met to consider the new development.

Pius XI Broadcasts Appeal in Celebrating Tenth Year of Reign as Pontiff.

By the Associated Press.
VATICAN CITY, Feb. 12.—Pope Pius XI, celebrating the tenth anniversary of his coronation, appealed to all the peoples of the world today to join him in a prayer for help from God "at this time of suffering among all the nations."

The message was broadcast from the Vatican radio station as he stood in St. Peter's surrounded by his cardinals and thousands who had crowded in to witness the ceremony.

The Pope expressed the hope that his words would be a "consolation and comfort" to all and that all would be with him "in prayers that the Supreme Lord of all things earthly should cause peace to return to the earth."

The Pope was carried from his apartment on the basilica on a portable throne on the shoulders of 16 attendants uniformed in red. As he entered, six silver trumpets sounded and thousands cried "Viva il papa!" and priests chanted "Ad multos annos!" meaning "May you live many years longer."

As the Pope was proceeding up the aisle, an elderly man advanced and tossed an envelope toward him, shouting "Make a grace." Guards immediately surrounded the man and took him away.

The Pope wore a white cassock and red mantle, embroidered in gold and studded with jewels. On his head was jeweled tiara, or triple crown. He raised his right hand occasionally to bless the shouting people, who were kept back by wooden barriers lined with papal guards.

The Pope was preceded in procession by a detachment of Swiss Guards, another of the Noble Guards, then prelates of the Vatican and finally Cardinals in purple.

As he was borne up the central aisle, the Sistine Choir chanted "Tu es Petrus" (Thou Art Peter). Attendees carried him to the large throne to the left of the altar. He left the portable throne and ascended the dais.

The cardinals advanced one by one, knelt and kissed his ring. Then Cardinal Cicalini, the first cardinal created by the Pope, celebrated the mass.

When the mass was over, the Pope gave his benediction. He again ascended the portable throne and was borne back to the Vatican. Ambassadors and Ministers of 22 nations sat in the diplomatic benches. Students of the American College in Rome and the college for Latin Americans also were present.

Donna Rachelle Mussolini, wife of the Premier of Italy, sat for the first time in the diplomatic box in company with Ambassador de Vecchi, Italian envoy to the Vatican.

Expedition Reaches Peiping—Russian Member to Wed American Girl Tomorrow

By the Associated Press.
PEIPING, China, Feb. 12.—The Haardt-Citroen Expedition reached Peiping today after an 8000-mile trek across Asia, and revealed the romance of Miss Barbara Schurman, daughter of the American diplomat, Jacob Gould Schurman, and Vladimir Petrovsky, Russian member of the expedition.

Miss Schurman, who arrived from the United States several days ago, met her fiancé on his arrival today. They will be married tomorrow at the United States Legation after a separation of almost a year.

Members of the expedition told a thrilling tale of how the love affair almost came to a disastrous end in Chinese Turkestan. Petrovsky, who helped organize the expedition, which went from Peiping into Chinese Turkestan to meet the main body of explorers, was held in virtual captivity for three months in Hami, Chinese Turkestan.

The Russian had gone there to guard expedition supplies and shortly thereafter began a siege by Mohammedan rebels. The Russian was faced with the prospect of placing himself at the mercy of the besiegers or remaining in Hami. He finally succeeded in escaping by automobile.

He went into an unknown desert with a Chinese officer.

There followed much traveling but Petrovsky finally reached Urumchi just in time to meet the main expedition on its arrival from Akau.

The adventurers, with the noted Frenchman, Georges-Marie Haardt, as their leader, left Beirut, Syria, April 4, 1931. They followed the trail roughly blazed centuries ago by Marco Polo, but had modern tractor-driven automobiles to get them through the unknown areas of the continent.

Although encountering many hardships, 11 28 men in the party were in excellent health when their tractors raveled through the gates of Peiping today.

They said they encountered great extremes in temperatures ranging from 125 degrees Fahrenheit in Khyber Pass to 18 degrees below on the Mongolian Plateau.

M. Haardt said much useful work was accomplished by scientists with the expedition and paid special tribute to the work of Maynard Owen Williams of the National Geographic Society, who made sound pictures and phonetic records in every country traversed.

HOUSE DEMOCRATIC LEADERS BACKING ARMY-NAVY MERGER

Send Word Down the Line That They Expect Support for Legislation.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—House Democratic leaders have sent word down the line that they expect support for the legislation to merge the War and Navy Departments. The Expenditures Committee is about to complete hearings and reports to the committee that the party leaders have lined up enough committee pledges to assure an early favorable report to the House.

Opposition by the Army and Navy has been bitter. Both say the new set-up, with a Secretary for National Defense and three assistant secretaries of Army, Navy and Aviation, very likely would cost more than the present organizations.

Chairman Byrnes of the Appropriation Committee, however, insists the move would save $100,000,000 in the first year, or shortly thereafter, and would be very likely to increase efficiency. He also holds faulty the argument that it would be difficult to find a man big enough to be Secretary of National Defense and replace two Cabinet members.

NOBLE SIGNS TO BUILD SOVIET DIRIGIBLE FLEET

By the Associated Press.
MOSCOW, Feb. 12.—Gen. Umberto Nobile, Italian commander of the ill-fated expedition of the dirigible Italia to the North Pole, has signed a contract with the Soviet Government to design and construct a fleet of dirigibles over a period of more than three years. It was learned yesterday.

He will work in co-operation with the Soviet Aeronautical Institute and will be assisted by a staff of experts being recruited in Italy. The number, size or type of airships in prospect was not disclosed.

The agreement also calls for his participation next summer in a Soviet scientific expedition to the Arctic regions in connection with the worldwide observance of Polar Year. Nobile is understood to be in Italy, but he will return in April to take up his work, presumably with the knowledge of the Italian Government.

GRANADA STRIKERS TRY ARSON

Blazes at Movies, Convent and Palace Quickly Put Out.

By the Associated Press.
GRANADA, Spain, Feb. 12.—Strikers unsuccessfully attempted to burn two movie theaters, a church, a convent and the Governor's Palace last night and early today. Firemen extinguished the blazes with little damage.

A minor panic was caused by the fires in the movie houses in which were many women and children. Street cars resumed operation today and some stores opened.

President Hoover will speak at 8:30 p. m. in St. Louis from the White House study in which Lincoln transacted affairs of state. A dinner in the capital will be addressed by Senators Watson of Indiana and Hatfield of West Virginia, Secretary of the Interior Wilbur and Mrs. Dolly Gann, sister of the Vice President.

WHEAT, MEAT, RAW COTTON AND IRON ORE ALSO EXEMPTED FROM 10 PCT. LEVY

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Feb. 12.—The measure by which Great Britain will throw over the tradition of free trade and become a protectionist country was published yesterday.

It provides for a 10 per cent tariff on all imports with certain exceptions and sets up the machinery under which duties above 10 per cent may be imposed on the recommendations of a special committee. Imperial preference was assured by the exemption of goods from the dominions from all tariffs until Nov. 15, 1932, and by complete exemption of goods from colonies and mandated territories.

The chief exceptions on imports from other countries include wheat, meat, tea, raw cotton, wool pulp, news print, raw rubber, iron ore and scrap iron. Others are gold and silver bullion and coin, live quadruped animals, fish of British taking, raw wool, hides and skins. Sulphur, mineral phosphates of lime, unset precious stones, radium compounds and ores also were exempted.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my platform will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight for the rights of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

For Making the Party Democratic.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I, Missouri, is ready for another "compromise," its delegates to the coming Democratic national convention in Chicago could offer no better one in the interests of a genuinely Democratic party than a relinquishment of the famous two-thirds rule in exchange for a new system of apportioning delegates to the several states.

These delegates are apportioned now, as you know, upon a basis of representation in Congress. This means a huge over-representation for states which rarely, if ever, go Democratic and a correspondingly large under-representation for other states which are always Democratic. It means that the rock-ribbed Republican State of Pennsylvania, with its 76 votes, can weigh more in Democratic national conventions than the combined states of Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina, which are always Democratic. So long as such a system remains, the under-represented states will need the two-thirds rule for what little protection it affords. It is a negative protection at best, of course, and has the additional fault of resulting often in weak compromises in the nominations. Furthermore, it can be employed by the over-represented states to aggravate their unwarranted power under the apportionment system.

The sensible and truly democratic thing for the Democratic party to do is to abolish the rule and base the apportionment of delegates (in part at least) on the distribution of total population but of Democratic population as indicated by a preceding election. The Republicans adopted such a system after their party split in 1912 and showed the improprieties of the old one. The Democrats have had their own party revolt—in 1928—and there should be some hope that the party which bears the name may now go actually Democratic.

A Nomination.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

It should like to nominate for the St. Louis Award the St. Louis man who woman who has the vision and generosity to come forward at a time like this and aid the unfortunate in our midst with a princely contribution to the Citizens Relief Committee. Such a person will stimulate others to give and would surely be considered the leading citizen in St. Louis.

FAN SOFIAN.

Jay Morrison's Observation.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

WHAT this country needs is more men like Jay Morrison, president of the savings bank association of the American Bankers' Association. He pricks numerous warm-air bubbles and packs more common sense into a few sticklers than is contained in thousands of columns emitted by ticker-tape economists and professional country savers.

For instance, "Unless the Reconstruction Finance Corporation intends to give its money away, it cannot lend more money on the frozen assets in the bank vaults of the nation than business prudence will permit. And that any bank with money to loan will do without a Government corporation. There has never been in all the depression any dearth of money to lend on good security."

The crowd is always wrong. The Florida land boom and the 1929 stock market frenzy are notorious examples. It takes vision and courage to oppose the mob. This crowd is obviously opinionated that Mr. Morrison will be dubbed another "self-seeking charlatan."

WHEATON C. FERRIS.

Getting Rid of Mr. Mellon.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

AFTER all, when all else has been said, was not the appointment of Andrew W. Mellon as Ambassador to the Court of St. James simply a matter of the President kicking the gentleman upstairs to get rid of him in a graceful way as Secretary of the Treasury?

WILLIAM A. KINNECK.

Dearmont vs. the Machines.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I Becker is elected Governor, he will fill the offices with politicians of the Becker machine; if Winter is elected Governor, his appointments will be made by the Hyde-Caulfield machine—all the long list of department heads are for him and they will have him tied hand and foot because of the loyalty to him in the campaign. If Wilson is elected Governor, Pendergast will make the appointments from the Pendergast machine. If Dearmont is elected Governor, he will appoint a class of strong business men, not belonging to any machine.

Whom do the people want for Governor? The Becker machine, that Becker has used the office of Secretary of State 12 years to build up the Hyde-Caulfield machine, that has made the department appointments for 12 years? The Pendergast machine, that nominated the last three Democratic candidates for Governor and of them all defeated Dearmont, who has no machine and will be the Governor if elected?

ANOTHER THURSDAY.

It was on Thursday, Oct. 24, 1929, now known in the history of economics as Black Thursday, that the great bull market collapsed, carrying down with it $7 billion dollars in values on the New York Stock Exchange list alone.

Yesterday was another Thursday. Following announcements that Congress is about to liberalize the discount structure of Federal Reserve banks, that Ford will begin manufacturing two new models in March, and that the Union Pacific will pay its regular dividend for the first quarter of 1932, a new ecstasy, so to speak, came over the lagging spirit of our dreams. The value of stocks and bonds increased three billion dollars. Both cotton and wheat rose. No doubt there were those who, despite all failure in the past, fanned the prophet's robe to predict that the depression is over.

We are not so sure. We hope so, but we have seen other Thursdays whose promises were not fulfilled. We are quite aware that depressions vary in their periodicity, and we long ago despaired of any notion how long this one would last. Nevertheless, even the 800-year depression which John Maynard Keynes says the Dark Ages were had an end. Some day, of course, this depression will end; but we are slow to believe that it will be ended by the artifices of Washington. We would rather believe that when our fortunes do rise they will carry a good many plimoths with them. It has not taken Wall Street long to discount the operations of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, as it did not take it long to discount the reduction in railroad wages. Perhaps it will not take it long to discount all the happy auguries of yesterday, since an over-capitalized country can hardly recover its buoyancy by assuming that things are worth more than they are worth; but a time will come when the cumulative effect of so many things will at last down the depression in its tracks. After all, we still have our wants, and we are willing to work to satisfy them. Haphazard as our economic system is, there is no reason why it should collapse.

There is every reason why it should be rationalized. For instance, it is unhealthy that the national economy should be so top-heavy as it is, and that a few people should possess such an undue portion of the national wealth. We are an immensely wealthy nation, the richest the world has ever known. It is incredible that we tolerate such an anomaly as abundant wealth on the one hand and starvation upon the other, while our congressional Nero fiddles. If we continue to tolerate it, we cannot always hope to escape so easily when reverses come. It is in our opinion also quite true, as the lugubrious Sir George Paish points out, that the malady which afflicts the world can never be eradicated until men everywhere adopt the policy of live and let live. As long as every nation bars the products of other nations, as long as they arm to the teeth against one another, and as long as the conquerors of Germany deny that country its rightful place in the international economy, the world can never enjoy a healthy condition of international trade.

But there is no good reason why the United States should meanwhile be as badly off as the rest of the world. Far from a self-sufficient nation, we still have the greatest of all domestic markets. It consumes 90 per cent of all our products. Mr. Coolidge, who rode an electric horse and therefore indelibly his own bravado with our own, says we have been riding too high. The truth is that we have been suffering the consequences of things which were carefully enumerated in the Post-Dispatch last Nov. 29 by Charles G. Ross. That exhaustive analysis of the national ills has never been answered, and it never will be.

A rising stock market is not going to abate the barriers of the Hawley-Smoot tariff. Better prices for farm products are not going to destroy those privileges by which the privileged grow richer and the unprivileged poorer. Mr. Ford can get out an automobile that whistles and talks, but we will still be out the money we lost in those South American loans and a thousand and one other unhappy investments. Declaring dividends to Union Pacific stockholders is one thing, but declaring the United States Treasury bankrupt, instead of a feed trough for favored interests, is something else.

We need to think over the way we are going before we go that way once too often.

LET THE 'AX' FALL.

The economy ax at Washington is swinging right and left, letting the chips fall where they may. It hews out a fat hunk of pork here, chops up a column of budget estimates there, wrecks a brimming trough right under a bureaucrat's nose over yonder. Points as far off as Geneva feel the solid blows, for the allowances of our conference delegates have been hacked. The reverberations will roar into the middle of next year, when crowds on Chicago's lake front see only part of the Government exhibits contemplated at the Pageant of Progress. With the axman's echoes resounding through all departmental corridors, there is perturbation in Senator Bingham's question: Why are not prohibition enforcement expenditures being carved as well? More than $11,000,000 is on the agenda for the Prohibition Bureau for the coming year, he said, and the $175,000 surplus has been left untouched. With the prohibition epoch's costs and the Treasury deficit being computed in astronomical figures, there is reason for Mr. Tinkham's prophecy: "We'll have plenty of fireworks on this later." We join him in awaiting pyrotechnics from both Congress and the people, with the "short, sharp shock" of an ax descending in the midst of the pinwheels and Roman candles.

PRONUNCIATION.

A woman reporter on a paper down in South Carolina has discovered that Gov. Roosevelt's pronunciation is not everything it should be. The word "initiative," for example; the "a" is long and carries the accent, while custom and the dictionary have thrown the accent back to the second syllable; all but stopped in its tracks, so to speak, and have practically left the "a" out of the reckoning. Again, "associated" is similarly mispronounced by the Governor, the stress being laid on the second "a," which is also long.

Just how the reporter, the Etymological Emily of the South, would herself pronounce "associated" we are not informed, but she is persuaded Mr. Roosevelt does it wrong, and, reformer that she is, she wants this wrong righted and has said so in a letter to the offender.

Just why the purists of the press should exact or expect their own delicate niceties of speech on the part of candidates for high office is a psychological vista that may be worth examining if occasion should some time permit. For the present let it be said that pronunciation, though less changeable than fashions, is far from fixed and immutable. In an earlier incarnation "initiative" carried the accent on the penult, and many of us can recall the "incomparable" of another day when the locus was sonorously redoubled on the antepenult. Illustrations might be multiplied.

A WEIRD PROPOSAL.

The mad spirit which led Japan to bombard Shanghai seems now to have spread to its diplomacy. We allude to the proposal of the Japanese Government that the Nine-Power Treaty be revised to place each large commercial center in China in a neutral zone, 15 to 20 miles wide, to be policed under international supervision. Chinese soldiers would be excluded from these zones, which would include Shanghai, Canton, Hankow, Tsingtao and Tientsin. In addition, Japan asks the Powers to consider Manchuria as outside the province of the Nine-Power Treaty, which is equivalent to asking Manchuria's recognition as a Japanese province.

Only last November, Japan flatly reiterated the policy, first enunciated at the close of the Sino-Japanese War of 1894-95, that the territorial and administrative integrity of China must be preserved. In a note to our State Department, Japan said: "The Japanese Government remain unchanged in their stand against the partition of China." In the short space of four months, Japan has reversed a 35-year-old policy and arrogantly asks the other signatories of the Nine-Power Treaty to take from China cities which bear the same relation to her as New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Chicago do to the United States.

Even more amazing is the theory underlying the proposal. It was outlined as follows by a spokesman for the Tokyo Government: The Nine-Power Treaty, guaranteeing China's territorial integrity, was predicated on the assumption that China was able to work out her own problems and achieve peace and stability if the Powers kept hands off. Japan is convinced now that the assumption was false and that the Powers must intervene. In other words, Japan, now engaged in a military crime against China, which in some respects is more grievous than Germany's invasion of Belgium, has declared itself the judge of China's destiny.

This surely is something new in the history of nations, that one should say of another that it can no longer be trusted to work out its own salvation. Japan, suffering severely under the depression, has recently suspended gold payments. What would she think if other nations should conclude that Japan is unable to solve its financial and economic problems and, therefore, should relinquish her five principal cities and one of her richest provinces? The analogy is exact, except that Japan is a strong nation and China a weak one, made weak by foreign conquerors.

Of course, the other Powers will not consider seriously so weird a proposal. Our own State Department promptly let it be known that the United States would not favor it, any more than it would favor the partitioning of Soviet Russia because of hostility to Bolshevistic principles. We express the hope that the Japanese proposal represents the views, not of the Japanese nation, but of the jingo patriots who are now in the saddle. Perhaps in the forthcoming elections they will come a cropper.

A SENATOR FOR THE PEOPLE.

Edward P. Costigan of Colorado has held a seat in the United States Senate scarcely two months and yet his name is better known throughout the country today as a sincere worker for the people than a dozen Senators who have been in office 10 years. Since the beginning of their service such Senators as Shortridge, Keyes, Dale and their like taken together have not made the impression the unobtrusive man from Denver has made since December. But it was to have been expected that Senator Costigan would have been work at once on some such badly needed legislation that which he is sponsoring with Senate La Follette. Aid for the millions of unemployed might very well come from a man who would resign in righteous indignation from the Tariff Commission with the charge that its usefulness had been destroyed by the maintenance of inordinately high rates. There are proved servants of the public interest in every state, subject to the call of the people. Colorado set an example which a third of the Union would do well to follow this year.

INITIATIVE IN FLORISSANT.

Formulation of a program to be followed during coming months by the Florissant Valley Roadside Improvement Association bodes well for the northwestern section of St. Louis County. According to plans approved by the more than 100 members, the usual campaign to remove billboards, roadside litter and any other unsightly objects and to stop city families from leaving the refuse from basket dinners along the highway, will be extended with efforts to improve the appearance of fences, buildings and trees, shrubs and flowers. Nor will these improvements benefit only those who live along the 30 miles of roads designated as part of a national movement; they will help convince a motoring and advertising age that one of our chief heritages can and must be restored. Such activity might have been expected in Florissant, whose very name suggests a countryside of natural beauty.

OLD PROPHETS AND NEW.

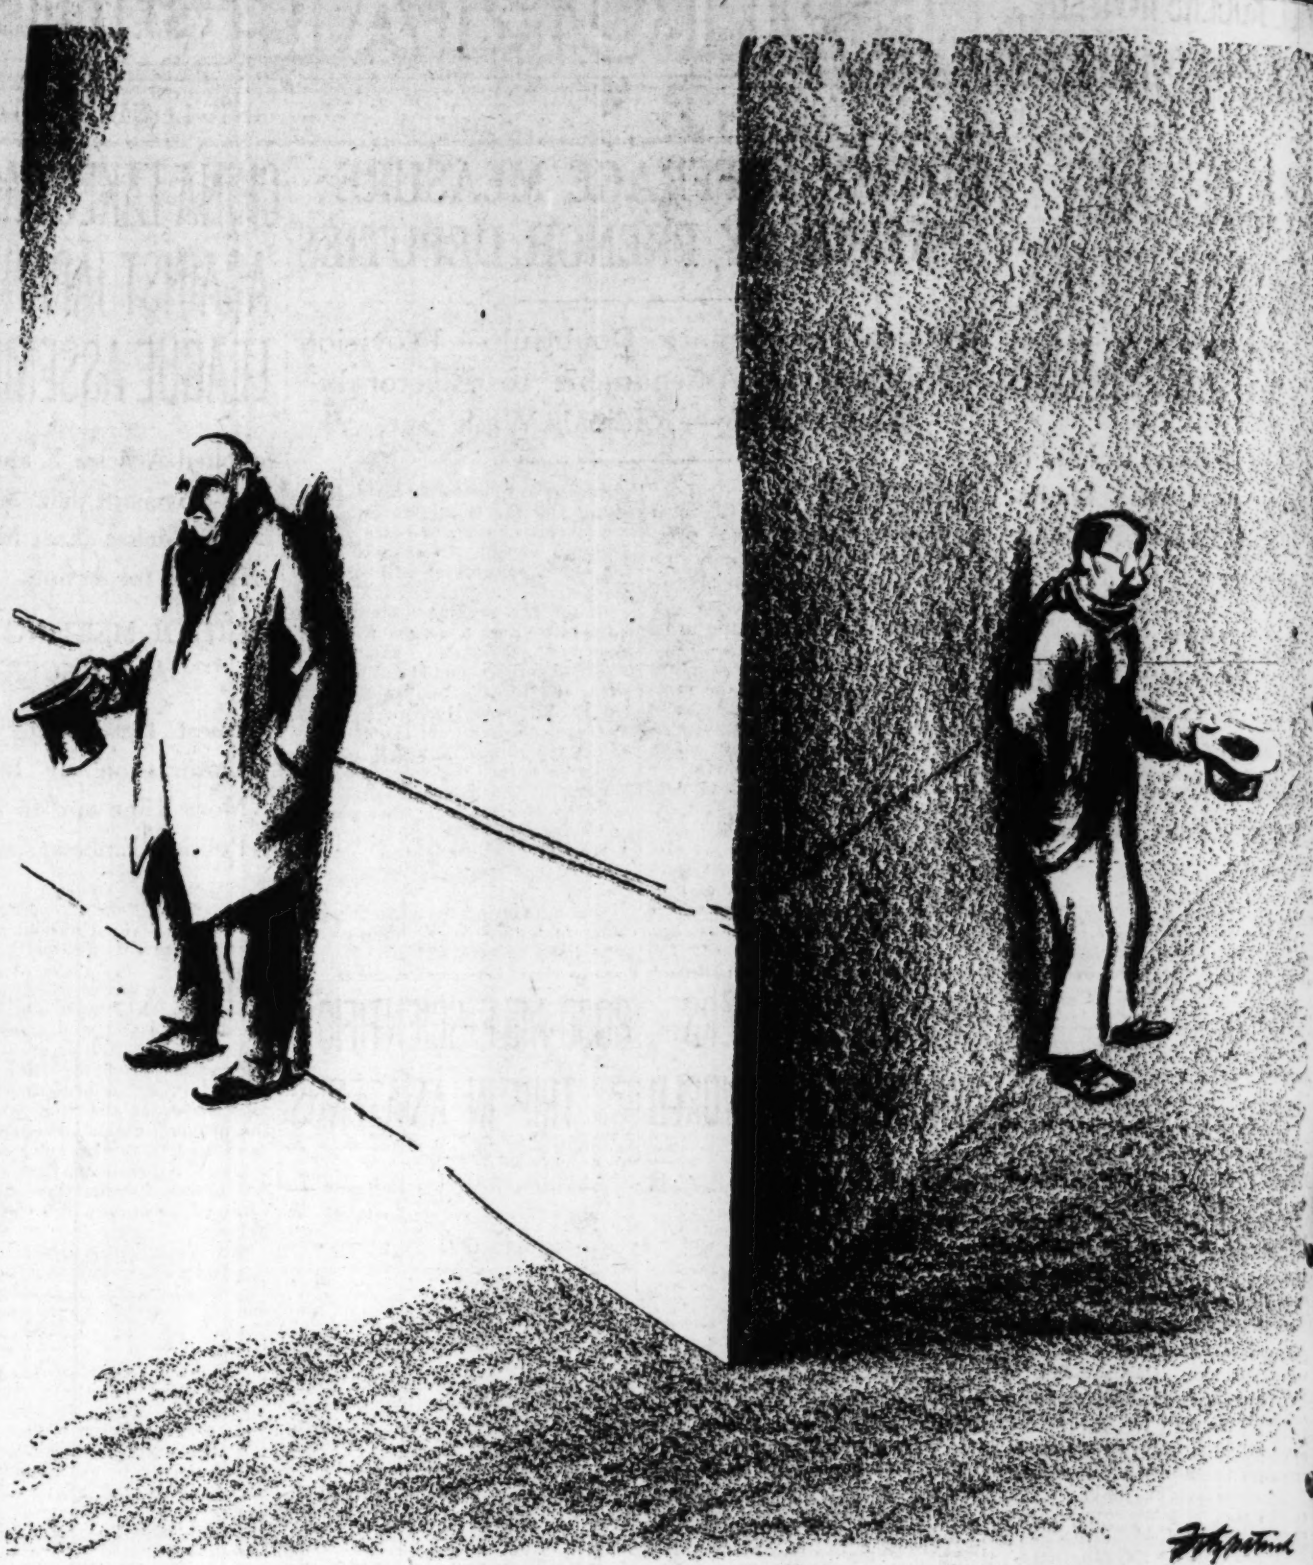

If we may judge by the following from the Missouri Historical Review, prophecy was as dangerous a business three-quarters of a century ago as it has proved to be during the business depression:

Delivering his first biennial message to the Missouri General Assembly on Dec. 29, 1853, Gov. Robert M. Stewart, advocate and active promoter of the first railroad to cross Missouri, the Hannibal & St. Joseph, urged Missouri to give its financial aid to railroads, and adopt an amendment which would limit the State debt at $30,000,000.

In his second Gov. Stewart, among other things, made this interesting statement: "And it is safe to predict that Missouri will have a population of 9,000,000 before the year 1900." The United States Census for 1900 shows Missouri with a population of 3,106,666, and even at the last census, taken in 1890, Missouri totaled but 3,829,367, still being some 5,000,000 below the optimistic estimate of Gov. Stewart.

Perhaps Mr. Hoover, who anticipated that we would abolish poverty, or Irving T. Bush, who believed that ours would go down in history as the golden age, will sympathize quickest with the shortcomings of this old-time prophet.

Is the brown derby to be another crown of thorns?

WALL STREET AND MAIN STREET.

The Fallacy of Easy Credit

Some of our economic doctors urge cheaper money, freer credit and higher prices as depression cure; however, low interest rates do not induce borrowing; rather, hope of profit stimulates loans, at almost any rate; banks are servant of trade, not its master; artificial prices would revive speculation and choke markets again.

Seth Askey in Barron's Financial Weekly.

COMMODITY prices, the monetary doctors assert, must be raised. The question, What prices? is considered of no importance. People who borrowed cheap money rates are at their peak; plant capacity is at its highest pitch. It is perfectly regular for business, when its throttle is wide open, to drag the banking system along. In 1919 and 1920, in this country, when money rates seemed all but prohibitive, expansion to meet the demands of inflation went ahead feverishly. Apparently, if there is simply a promise of profit, no rate can be too high. On the other hand, no rate is low enough to tempt a business man when he sees no hope of profit.

In this country, in the middle of 1929, plant investment slowed down alarmingly, notwithstanding that corporations, little and big, were having heaped upon them the cheapest capital they ever saw. For the whole two years since, even though the strongest corporations could have financed at the lowest cost until recently, industrial plant investment has altogether refused to start. The notion that banks can make business men take uninviting risks has so far proved but a prayer unanswered.

Reckless investing in the past, according to the records, ended in unmanageable surpluses and a distorted price structure. The credit doctors shut their eyes to the records, however, and call upon their doctrine for the answer—the bankers have failed to furnish credit enough to keep the business machine moving at normal speed.

Let us try out this interpretation on recent events. For over a year the banking systems of this country and England offered the most amazing bargains in credit ever known, yet business in both countries simply went from bad to worse. Credit which was forced out only backed up into the strongest and shortest security; eventually, the liquidation which had been held back so overwhelmed the markets that the banks themselves were thrown into the scramble for cash; and the easy-money policy has given currencies as rough handling as the war. It cannot be made much plainer that when misadjustment allows no hope of profit, the rate of interest is not a consideration. Fear is the ruler.

After two years of effort to revive business, without adjusting the banks have shown nothing but helplessness. Just as tight money failed to throttle business, easy money has failed to accelerate it. Contrary to this theory, that the banking system is a master of prices and hence of profits and trade, the evidence shows that it is not a master at all, but only a servant of trade.

Unfortunately we cannot say, like Jehovah, "Let there be higher prices," and have them produced miraculously. To have higher prices, we must raise prices, yet to raise them would almost certainly fill us again with the same ambition which has just defeated us. Human weakness being what it is, and hope everlasting, speculation would flare up without doubt. None of our frailties is more prompt to serve us than our passion for a "quick turn" or for borrowing when all looks well. Small wonder that we usually pay off in adversity!

Japan Mismanages Her Case

From the New York Times.

GOVERNMENT spokesmen at Tokyo are anxious to have the world take note of a vital distinction between Manchuria and Shanghai. The Japanese reply to the posts suggestions declares bluntly that it is a settled policy not to accept neutral intervention in Manchurian questions. In more colloquial language, Admiral Osumi, Minister of the Navy, makes the same point. He would have public opinion in the United States understand that Japan looks upon Shanghai in an entirely different light from the Manchurian situation. "Manchuria is a matter of life and death for Japan. Shanghai is only a passing incident, which we are anxious to close as soon as possible, so that we may withdraw our troops."

To this summary there seemingly can be only one rejoinder. If it is true that Manchuria is a matter of life and death to Japan, what is Japan doing in China? If it is true that Japan's action in Manchuria is justified by the laws of self-preservation, what shall be said of a procedure that has progressively alienated a large body of foreign sentiment which at the beginning was prepared to give the Japanese case a fair hearing? After the first shock of the seizure of Mukden had worn off, there was no inclination among informed observers to discuss Japan of acting without reason.

It was perceived that Japan had legitimate interests in Manchuria. She had done her share to develop the economic life of the country and to help make it a haven for millions of refugees from war-torn China. If her influence with the Chinese rulers of Manchuria came close to being domination, there was no great store of sympathy among outsiders for the "right" of a particular Chinese war lord.

Altogether, it could be said of the earlier phase of the Japanese action in Manchuria that it did not impress the world as unjustifiable aggression, since the China that was technically the victim could not be judged by ordinary standards. It was probably the majority opinion in this country that if Japan could establish order in Manchuria and continue to develop its resources, it would be a gain for the Chinese cause.

This state of foreign opinion began to change as the Japanese campaign in Manchuria expanded. Yet even here it was possible to discern something of a case. Perhaps order in Manchuria could not be established until Chang Hsueh-liang's forces were chased out of the country beyond the Great Wall. And though an event like the present seizure of Harbin, now that the war lord is disposed of, is not easy to understand, still it might be argued that this is Manchuria, where Japan has legitimate interests, perhaps vital interests.

But when we see the same hacking through methods brought into play at Shanghai for the purpose of supplanting a native government, the aspect of things is changed. It must be plain to the authorities at Tokyo that Shanghai undermines their case in Manchuria.

If the mailed fist is found operating at Shanghai, which is only a "passing incident," it is hard to escape the inference that in Manchuria, too, the mailed fist has been swinging, not because vital interests are at stake, but because Japan has accumulated a passion for delivering hard blows. At Shanghai the Japanese have, in fact, done much to sap their position in Manchuria.

WILL ROGERS INVITED TO BE HOOVER JESTER

President Asks Comedian to Make Joke to Help Anti-Hoarding Campaign.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Will Rogers, cowboy humorist, reported yesterday that after years of politeness fun at President Hoover's commissions he had finally been appointed to one himself. The "appointment" was made at a half-hour "conference" in the President's office, in the course of which—Rogers admitted under questioning—he had "settled" a number of troublesome questions, such as the Chinese-Japanese difficulty. He forgot completely to solve "the Al Smith question," however, he said.

Rogers was accompanied by a fellow Oklahoman, Secretary of War Hurley. Both appeared to have enjoyed themselves. Rogers was a member of a Hoover commission now—and he was making fun of them all this time. The President asked me if I wouldn't make up a joke to help along his anti-hoarding campaign.

"Yes, sir, I'm going to appoint me some subcommittees and have a regular commission."

Talk of the anti-hoarding movement, however, occupied only a small part of the time. Rogers at first contended he had done nothing but listen to Hoover and Hurley.

"I was made the victim of a lot of information," he explained. "There are only two men in the world who can outtalk me. One is Bernard Shaw and the other is Pat Hurley. We might just as well have stayed in Hurley's office for all the chance I got to talk, except that we added the President to the audience."

Rogers finally conceded that he had done a little talking himself. He said he had asked the President if Congress would pass the $375,000,000 La Follette-Costigan bill to provide direct Federal relief. Hoover replied that he did not know, Rogers said. The President, Rogers said, explained that no state government had yet applied for aid or even admitted that it could not make care of its own situation.

"In other words," Rogers went on, "he said no governors had been parading up and down Pennsylvania avenue with a tin cup. Bill Murray, has asked for help."

"The President actually did mention Murray. I'll have to wire Alalfa Bill that Mr. Hoover knows who he is. That will tickle him."

WILL ROGERS INVITED TO BE HOOVER JESTER

President Asks Comedian to Make Joke to Help Anti-Hoarding Campaign.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Will Rogers, cowboy humorist, reported yesterday that after years of politicking at President Hoover's commission he had finally been appointed to one himself. The "appointment" was made at a half-hour "conference" in the President's office, in the course of which—Rogers admitted under questioning—had "settled" a number of troublesome questions, such as the Chinese-Japanese difficulty. He replied that he did not know. Rogers said. The President, Rogers said, explained that no state government had yet applied for aid or even admitted that it could not take care of its own situation.

"In other words," Rogers went on, "he said no governors had been coming up and down Pennsylvania avenue with a tin cup. Apparently not even my Governor, Bill Murray, has asked for help."

The President actually did mention Murray, I'll have to wire Al. He said that Mr. Hoover knows who he is. That will tickle him."

ARCHAEOLOGICAL LINK BETWEEN UR AND INDIA

American Expedition Reports Important Find in Ancient Chaldean Tomb.

By the Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 12.—A link between the ancient civilizations of Mesopotamia and India has been discovered in a tomb at the Ur of the Chaldees. The archaeological expedition from the University of Pennsylvania, now in its tenth season of research at Ur, has sent word that a circular seal, bearing an inscription in Indus Valley script of about 2500 B. C., has been found. The seal was in a tomb containing the graves of two men, two children and 14 women, all richly ornamented with gold and silver jewelry.

In this tomb were copper weapons and many pottery vessels. C. Leonard Woolley, director of the expedition, considers the find to be "the most important made at Ur since the discovery of the royal tombs a few years ago."

"Underneath an unbroken mud floor," Woolley reports, "lay the graves. The most important was a coffin containing a man, sunk half its height in a pit whose sides were lined with clay and metal vessels. A great copper trident lay at its foot. The body was ornamented with oval frontlets of thin gold, a gold ribbon and coiled hair rings. Necklaces of gold, carnelian, and agate beads were around his neck. In the coffin were a copper ax and dagger, two clay beakers and a copper cauldron."

The weekly luncheon and card day was observed at the St. Louis Woman's Club yesterday at which time the winners of the junior bridge tournament were announced. Mrs. Louis S. Dennig and Mrs. Lawrence C. Sherrill playing north and south, and Miss Elizabeth Ferguson and Mrs. Edward Morton Banister, playing east and west won the tournament and received inlaid walnut card tables from the club.

Mrs. Marvin E. Holderness was chairman of the junior bridge tournament.

Ultra-Modern American Art On Exhibit at Gallery Here

One Water Color, 'Tree on Morse Mountain,' Valued at $1900, Presents Problem of Which Side Is Top.

Paintings, drawings and small sculptures by 24 contemporary American artists are on exhibition at the Noonan-Kocian galleries at Tenth and Locust streets. The collection was assembled in New York and came to St. Louis after a showing in Chicago. It will be here through next week.

Most of the pictures lean toward the ultra-modern tendencies and many observers will find them unintelligible. Several water color sketches presented practical difficulties in determining which side should be hung on top. Of this sort is "Tree on Morse Mt.," a combination of gray and green areas of color with indefinite outlines by John Marin. For this sketch, about a foot square, the artist has fixed a price of $1900.

Two of the artists have been represented in one or more of the three comprehensive exhibitions of modern American art which have been shown at City Art Museum during the past two years. These are Glen O. Coleman and Anne Goldthwaite. Two New York street scenes are Coleman's contribution, and Miss Goldthwaite presents three oil paintings, "Cabin in Alabama," "Floughing" and "Young Woman."

Others represented include Peggy Bacon, William and Marguerite Zorach, Pop Hart, Bernard Karloff, Charles Demuth, Alex Brook, Arshile, Gorky, Stefan Hirsch, Morris Kantor, Karl Knaths, Joseph Pollet, Niles Spencer and Max Weber. The sculptures are by Hunt Dedrich, Duncan Ferguson, Gaston Lachaise, Rueben Nakian and William Zorach.

The Noonan-Kocian galleries this week are showing also bronze copies of the 15 soap sculptures which one prizes in this year's national white soap sculpture contest. There are also several of the original prize winning figures, including one of a leaping rabbit by Jean Thallinger, 15-year-old St. Louis boy. He is the son of St. Oscar Thallinger, registrar of City Art Museum.

Forty-two small water color pictures by Dooley Dionysius of Kirkwood will be on exhibition through next week at the Healy galleries, 4516 Olive street. Dionysius, who studied at St. Louis School of Fine Arts of Washington University, has been painting for the last several years in California.

The Newhouse galleries, 434 North Kingshighway, have a collection of 10 paintings by Andre Derain, modern French artist, which will remain until Feb. 26. About 50 drawings by Count Rene d'Harnoncourt, done to illustrate his book on Mexico and one on the United States which is in prospect, are also shown there.

Count d'Harnoncourt is in charge of the exhibition of Mexican art which is at City Art Museum in Forest Park. Another special exhibition at the museum is a group of sketches by Boardman Robinson, New York artist, for his mural paintings in a Pittsburgh department store.

Tribute to Nicholas Murray Butler.
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Alumni dinners at 60 places around the world, two of them aboard ship, were given in honor of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler last night in honor of his thirtieth anniversary as president of Columbia University. The year also marks his fiftieth graduation anniversary. He is 70 years old this year.

CHARLES R. MARSH FUNERAL TO BE HELD HERE MONDAY

Former St. Louis Insurance Man Killed in Auto Accident in Wisconsin.

The funeral of Charles R. Marsh of Milwaukee, former St. Louisan, who was killed Wednesday in an automobile accident near Plymouth, Wis., will be held Monday morning at St. Margaret's Catholic Church, 3883 Flad avenue.

Mr. Marsh, who was 37 years old, was assistant manager of the fire insurance department of the Aetna Life Insurance Co. in St. Louis until two years ago, when he entered the employ of the Home Insurance Co. of New York at Chicago. Last month he was transferred to Milwaukee as special agent for the Home Insurance Co.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Marsh, Kansas City and two brothers, William R. and Edward G. Marsh Jr., both of St. Louis.

4000 NEW CHURCH MEMBERS
A jubilee meeting of workers in the visitation evangelism campaign now being conducted by a group of St. Louis churches will be held at 9:15 o'clock tonight at the Third Baptist Church, Grand and Washington boulevards, in celebration of the fact that 4000 persons have joined St. Louis churches as a result of the campaign.

The meeting will follow visits made by the workers during the early part of this evening. Lester C. Hawthorth is director of the campaign, which was planned by the Rev. Dr. A. Earl Kernahan of Washington, D. C.

OUR FOREIGN FRIENDS OFFER THESE RECIPES

Norse Cod, Spanish Halibut and French and Italian Cabbage.

A Norse recipe for cod will be welcomed at this season. Spanish halibut is not a Lenten dish, as it contains pork, but it is very good for nonfast days.

Cabbage, according to French and Italian custom offers variations for this vegetable, always easy to get and very cheap now.

Norse Cod.
Have slices of cod cut about an inch thick and allow two to two and a half pounds for six servings.

Put the bottom of a deep baking dish with two tablespoons butter, place in a layer of fish. Sprinkle the fish with flour, salt and pepper.

CALP'S BRAIN PIE WITH MACARONI

Make a pastry of one and one-half cups flour and one-third cup sugar sifted together, cut on four ounces butter and grated rind of one lemon. Stir in unbeaten whites of two eggs and enough water to mix well. Knead well, and set in ice box for 30 minutes.

Boil one-half pound macaroni in salted water until tender, drain. Fry one onion sliced thin in one tablespoon butter until golden brown, then add one cup soup stock at boiling point and cooked macaroni. Set aside.

Scald one calf's brain and cook until tender. Add one cup thin white sauce, three ounces grated Parmesan cheese and one pint whipped cream. Mix well. Line deep dish with pastry rolled thin, put in alternate layers of macaroni, then sauce and brains. Cover with pastry and bake in moderate oven.

RELATIVE ECONOMY
Gelatin is a true friend in these days of economy, for it may be used in so many ways, and makes a little food go a long way. Left-over meat, fish or vegetables may be converted into delicious salads with gelatin and seasonings.

Desserts, inexpensive in fruit ingredients, may be dressed up with colored gelatin to look and taste delicious. And well seasoned gelatin cocktails with a little shrimp or crab foundations give a real party touch to any dinner.

Ginger Balls.
Mash cream cheese, moisten with mayonnaise and mix with a little chopped crystallized ginger. These add to any fruit salad if placed on the side of the plate.

Spanish Halibut.
Place three or four thin slices salt pork in baking dish and cover them with a thick slice of halibut. Cover the fish with thinly sliced onions, two tablespoons chopped pimientos, one cup canned tomatoes. Season with salt and pepper and bake in a moderate oven 35 minutes. Slip under the boiler to brown quickly and serve very hot.

French Cabbage.
Cook a white cabbage until tender, drain and cool. When cold, chop medium fine, stir in two tablespoons of butter, pepper, salt and one-fourth-cup of cream. Heat, stir in quickly two well beaten eggs. Have ready a buttered frying pan. Put prepared cabbage in it, stirring it until it is very hot without burning. Let it brown lightly on the underside, then fold like an omelet and serve.

Italian Cabbage.
Boil and drain a white cabbage. Fry in saucepan in a little butter a small onion and a shredded sardine from which the skin and bones have been removed. Chop the drained cabbage and add, covering and cooking gently so that it will absorb all the flavor. When very hot add a dusting of grated cheese and nutmeg.

Coffee Pots.
How often do you air your coffee pot out of doors? It's a fine thing to do, especially if you set it in the sunlight for a little while. And, of course, this goes for tea pots, too. Above all, whatever style of coffee or tea pot you use, clean it carefully; scald and rinse well every time you use either.

Luncheon Dish.
Cut slices from ripe tomatoes, scoop out center, sprinkle tomatoes with salt and pepper, drop an egg in each, cover lightly with buttered egg crumbs and bake in moderate oven about 20 minutes. Save scooped out sections to add to soup stock.

NOODLES AND HAM WITH SOUR CREAM

Four ounces egg noodles, one to one-half cup butter, one tablespoon chopped onion, one tablespoon minced parsley, one-third teaspoon salt, pinch of red pepper, dash of white pepper, three-fourths cup freshly soured cream, two eggs beaten light, one-fourth pound diced, uncooked ham.

Cook egg noodles in salted, boiling water until tender; drain. Sauté onion and parsley in butter, taking care not to brown; when butter is well seasoned, press it through a fine sieve over egg noodles, discarding the bits of vegetables. Lightly mix ham, cream, eggs and egg noodles, adding salt and pepper. Pour into buttered, covered, baking dish, bake in slow oven 45 minutes, removing cover last 15 minutes to brown.

Tomato Bread.
Another way of adding the valuable tomato juice to the diet is to make tomato bread. All you do is to add diluted tomato juice in place of water or bread to your usual recipe.

It gives a delicate pink flavor to the bread, which makes it attractive for sandwiches for the tea or the school luncheon box.

TUNA FISH RECIPES FOR LENTEN ECONOMY

This Fish Will Provide Varied and Nutritious Dishes for Meatless Days.

A few cans of tuna fish on the pantry shelf should be one of the Lenten provisions of thoughtful housekeepers. Just the thing for fish days when the budget is low, and one is at a loss what to serve. There are so many recipes for tuna in baked, creamed combinations, salads and croquettes, so that it need never become monotonous.

Tuna and Tomatoes.
Select tomatoes of even size, scoop out centers, save and serve in salad the next meal. Use one can of tuna fish, mix with bread crumbs, chopped celery, onion juice, salt and pepper. Stuff tomatoes with mixture, lay in even rows over dough, brush with two tablespoons melted

Escalloped Tuna.
Butter bottom of casserole and cover with a layer of tuna fish broken in thin pieces, then a layer of broken soda crackers. Each layer should be about one-fourth inch deep. Alternate layers until casserole is filled, making the top layer of the broken crackers. Place several dots of butter on top and season with black pepper (use no salt). Add sweet milk to cover all but the top layer of crackers, place cover on dish and bake in oven until the crackers are a golden brown.

Tuna Salad.
Separate into flakes a can of tuna fish. Mix carefully with one cupful of diced celery, one tablespoonful of chopped green peppers, two tablespoonsful chopped olives and three-fourths cup of cooked salad dressing. Add two teaspoonfuls of vinegar and season with salt and pepper. Soak two tablespoonfuls of gelatin in one-fourth cup of cold water for five minutes. Dissolve by placing over hot water, then stir into the fish mixture. Turn into small wet moulds, set aside to chill. Serve on lettuce or water cress and garnish with celery tips, slices of stuffed olives and pieces of green pepper or pimiento.

Tuna Croquettes.
Flake the contents of a can of tuna fish, moisten with a very thick cream sauce, using three tablespoons butter and four tablespoons flour to one cup of milk, and season highly with salt, pepper and a little Worcestershire sauce. Add minced pimiento and chopped parsley to taste, and form into croquettes. Roll in crumbs, egg, then crumbs again, and fry in deep, hot fat. At serving time, heap the middle of a large, hot platter with buttered peas and finely diced carrots, radiate croquettes from them, and surround with a border of tiny ducks molded from mashed potato to which part of a beaten egg has been added. Brush with the remainder of the egg and brown lightly in a hot oven. Garnish all with parsley.

SALAD DRESSINGS FOR FRUITS, GREENS AND FISH
Lettuce and other greens are delicious with vinaigrette dressing, which may be made as follows: Blend one teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon sugar, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, dash of paprika, 12 tablespoons salad oil and three tablespoons vinegar. Beat well with a fork. Stir in two tablespoons dill pickles chopped fine and one teaspoon chopped parsley.

For fruit salad, try a cheese dressing made by mixing two packages cream cheese with four tablespoons salad oil, then adding mixture of one-half teaspoon salt, dash of white pepper, one and one-half teaspoons sugar, four tablespoons more of salad oil and one tablespoon lemon juice. Beat last mixture into cheese mixture until it is light and fluffy.

For any seafood salad, let seafood stand in the following dressing for one hour in ice box before serving: Mix three-fourths part of salad oil with one part of vinegar, season with salt and pepper.

HOT APPLE CAKE WITH CINNAMON
Mix and sift two cups flour, four teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt, and one tablespoon sugar. Cut in four tablespoons shortening. Combine one well-beaten egg with two-thirds cup milk, and add to dry ingredients. Spread the dough evenly over a greased square baking pan. Peel, core and thinly slice four large apples, lay in even rows over dough. Brush with two tablespoons melted butter and two teaspoons cinnamon. Bake in hot oven until apples are tender which should be in about 30 minutes. Serve hot with cream or any desired sauce.

SALADS
Add a finely minced onion to three cups of cooked string beans, and serve with French dressing on lettuce.
Combine equal parts of shredded raw cabbage, carrots, celery and radishes with a few drops of onion juice and French dressing.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

WILTED LETTUCE
Cut salt pork, ham or fat bacon in dice and brown in a skillet. Add a tablespoon of flour and brown, then add two cups of hot water and cook smooth. Use the well-washed outside of lettuce, or a head not delicate enough for salad. Cut in ribbons and chill in a salad bowl, add to the sauce one tablespoon of vinegar and one teaspoon salt and turn over the chilled lettuce while the sauce is very hot. Turn the lettuce so it reaches every leaf. One teaspoon of sugar may be added.

BAKE A VALENTINE!

MAKE IT a delight WITH CALUMET'S DOUBLE-ACTION!

A VALENTINE CAKE with frosty coconut and tiny red hearts! There's a chance to be different—try it! And be wise—follow the recipe exactly. Use Calumet Baking Powder—and Calumet's Double-Action will make it the cake of your heart's desire. A specially smooth—extra delicate—light-as-a-wisp creation!

Will any other baking powder do?—Not if you want that even Calumet texture, that wonderful Calumet tenderness. For Calumet has a way all its own of making your cakes and quick breads superlatively good—it acts twice. Calumet's first action begins in the mixing bowl. It starts the leavening properly. Then in the oven, the second action begins. Steadily, evenly, it continues the leavening. Up!... up!... it keeps raising the batter and holds it high and light, until your cake is beautifully baked.

And see what you save!—The simple, tested recipe given here is a Calumet recipe—specially designed for the Calumet proportion—only one level teaspoon to a cup of sifted flour. That's the usual Calumet proportion and should be followed for best results. A splendid economy for you—thanks to the perfect efficiency of Calumet's Double-Action. Yes, Calumet is the real baking powder bargain! A bargain—because it avoids costly failures—because it always brings top-notch success. Try it to-day! Calumet is a product of General Foods Corporation.

VALENTINE CAKE (3 egg whites)

3 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
3 teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter or other shortening
1/2 cups sugar

1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup water
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 teaspoon almond extract
3 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add flour, alternately with liquid, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Add flavoring; fold in egg whites. Bake in two greased 9-inch layer pans in moderate oven (375° F.) 20 minutes. Put layers together and cover top and sides of cake with white frosting. Decorate top with border of tiny red cinnamon candy hearts and a heart of candies in center. All measurements are level.

LEMON PUDDING
Beat one cup granulated sugar well into yolks of four eggs. Add grated peel and juice of one lemon. Whip whites of four eggs well and fold into sugar mixture. Pour into buttered casserole, set in pan of hot water and bake without cover for about 40 minutes. Serve immediately after taking from oven.

Fig Ginger Candy.
Boil one cup of dried figs five minutes and drain, then cut or chop. Wash off the sugar from one-fourth cup of candied ginger and cut into small pieces. Combine one-half cup of brown sugar, one cup of granulated sugar, with three-quarters cup of thin cream or evaporated milk and add to the figs, cook until it forms a soft ball. Remove from fire, add one tablespoon of butter and one teaspoon of vanilla, cook slightly and beat until creamy. Add one cup of seedless raisins and the ginger. Knead and shape into a loaf. Cut in thin slices.

RANDOM SUGGESTIONS ON COOKERY TOPICS

Little Touches That Add Novelty to the Daily Food Routine.

Orange, apricot or cranberry marmalade stuffed into the core cavity of apples before they are baked, give a different and delicious flavor. Use as much as you can get into the hole in each apple, sprinkle lightly with sugar and bake in a very moderate oven, so that the pulp is almost transparent when the apple is done.

One-half cup finely chopped pecan nut meats added to your favorite waffle batter will make excellent pecan waffles, something that is rather new and becoming popular for Sunday night suppers, or after-bridge "treats." Served with syrup in the usual way.

Stuff celery stalks with a mixture of grated American cheese, chopped pecan or walnut meats, a dash of salt and just enough stiff mayonnaise to hold the mixture together. Serve alone as an appetizer, or cut in inch lengths and serve on lettuce as a salad.

To keep parsley fresh and sweet, wash it, shake the sprigs to remove most of the water, then pack loosely in a pint fruit jar. Put on the cover, but do not clamp it down, and keep the jar in a cold place. Parsley may be kept for a week in this manner.

The secret of making good pie crust is cold materials and quick handling. Flour, salt and baking powder should be mixed, then sifted three times. The cold shortening should be cut into the flour with a pastry cutter, with a fork or two knives. Ice water is best for a liquid to moisten the mixture. Handle as quickly, as lightly, and as little as possible. Line the pie plate with the dough, then chill thoroughly before adding the filling and baking. These precautions will help to produce a crisp, flaky and tender crust.

Next time you make lemon pie,

SWEETBREADS FOR THE GUEST DINNER

Possible to Extend Flavor by Combining With Other Foods.

Almost everyone likes sweetbreads, but for some reason or other they are not as generally served as might be. Perhaps because they are considered rather a luxury.

But, good news, sweetbreads, like all other foods, are cheaper now. And then again, it's so easy to extend the flavor—by this it is meant to combine them with other foods. Creamed sweetbreads may be combined with peas or asparagus with a delicious result. They are equally good with mushrooms, and fine in a ramekin combination with macaroni.

FOLDING IN COOKING

Once again we are asked to explain what folding means when applied to cream or beaten egg whites. It is mixing very lightly by drawing the spoon through the mixture, then lifting over and over again to fold the whipped cream or egg whites into cake dough or other matter.

It is not stirring or beating, but a process which retains the fluffy texture of eggs or cream.

APPLE BETTY

Line a buttered baking dish with one cup fine dried bread crumbs blended with one-fourth cup melted butter, one teaspoon cinnamon and one cup brown sugar. Add a layer of apples and sprinkle with crumb mixture.

Alternate layers until dish is full, using three finely chopped apples. Bake about 40 minutes in moderate oven. Serve hot with cream.

Chicken.

To prevent the breast of baked chicken being dry, turn breast down until chicken is three-fourths baked, then turn up to brown. Or put a few strips of bacon on the breast and it will be more moist and better flavored.

ORANGE TOAST

Mix two tablespoons melted butter with one-half cup sugar, one-fourth cup orange juice and one teaspoon grated orange rind. Toast six slices of raisin bread on one side only.

Spread other side of bread with the orange mixture, and place in oven until golden brown.

Chile Sandwich.

On a slice of toasted bread lay a thin slice of broiled ham, place slices of hard-boiled egg, cut crosswise, on top of the ham and over all pour two or three tablespoons of the following sauce: Melt one-fourth pound butter in a frying pan and add one tablespoon of prepared mustard, two tablespoons of vinegar, a dash of salt and pepper and one teaspoon of chili powder. Stir until hot and serve.

Nuts.

Nuts served with a meal which is lacking in fats are excellent. A good way is to add a generous supply of nuts to the fruit salad. Nut sandwiches are always acceptable, and peanut butter has many uses.

Baked Sweetbreads.

Clean and blanch the required number of sweetbreads. Cut them as even as possible in slices one and one-half inches thick. Butter a shallow baking dish well. Mix well one-fourth onion, one-eighth clove garlic, one-half teaspoon of parsley, all finely minced. Add two tablespoons of tomatoes, dash of

FRIDGE CAKE WITH WALNUTS

One cup milk, four squares chocolate, two cups sugar, four eggs, one cup flour, one-half teaspoon almond, one teaspoon baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt, one cup cut walnuts, one-half teaspoon vanilla extract.

Put the milk and chocolate into the double boiler and cook, beating when chocolate is melted until smooth and thick. Cool thoroughly. Then add to this mixture the eggs beaten very light. Add sugar, sifted. Sift flour again with salt and baking powder.

LEMON FROSTING

Layer cake is delicious with this frosting. Put two cups sugar and two-thirds cup boiling water in a sauce pan, stir to prevent sticking. Heat slowly to boiling point, then boil without further stirring until syrup will thread when dropped from spoon.

Raisin Toffee.

Heat two cups light brown sugar, four teaspoons vinegar and one-half cup of butter over a moderate fire, stir until sugar dissolves, then boil without stirring until syrup forms a hard ball when tried in cold water. Put one-half cup seedling raisins in a greased pan, and pour syrup over them. When cold cut in squares.

Fruit Skins.

Oranges and grapefruit may be chosen by carefully examining the skins. A rough, coarse skin is almost always a sign of rather dry and woody pulp. Thin, smooth skins cover rich and juicy fruit.

Peach Strips.

Wash one cup of dried peaches and steam five minutes, remove skins. Flatten halves as much as possible, then cut in very thin strips, roll in sugar.

VALENTINE GIFTS OF YEAR'S BEST RECIPES

Group of Friends Follow Pleasant Custom on the Saint's Day.

In this section last week we suggested plans for a children's Valentine party and included recipes. Today we want to tell you about a 15-year-old Valentine celebration of six women who have had all these years a little sewing club.

Each year every member of the club selects the prettiest valentines she can find, generally of the sentimental, paper-filled variety, and with each she includes a copy of a good recipe she has discovered during the year in magazines, new cook books or newspapers.

Neatly typed on cards the right size for the recipe box file the six sets of recipes go out, and each year a subject is given which all follow.

The valentines this year contain salad recipes, and we are privileged to reprint three of the recipes selected by club members.

Stuffed Prune Salad.
But the difference in this and usual prune salads is that there is horseradish in the stuffing which gives a piquant, appetite-teasing tang all its own.

Cover two cups of prunes with water and boil one hour, allowing the water to evaporate almost entirely. Cool and remove pits. Add one tablespoon horseradish to one cup of very finely cut celery, salt to taste and moisten with mayonnaise. Arrange on lettuce and serve with French dressing.

Cucumber Cream Salad.
Peel and slice three cucumbers. Cook until tender with one small sliced onion in just enough water to cook without burning. Press through sieve, measure and to each cup of pulp add a scant tablespoon of gelatine softened in cold water, then dissolved over boiling water.

Add in one cup whipped cream, one tablespoon lemon juice, and a little salt and pepper. When cold and almost ready to set, turn into a mold which has been dipped in cold water. Chill, unmold, and garnish with thin bits of radish and mayonnaise.

Cheese and Pepper Salad.
Wash three medium green peppers, cut off tops and remove seeds. Beat one-half pound cream cheese with a fork until smooth.

Add three hard boiled eggs, one medium sour pickle, one-half pound pecans, all of which have been chopped fine. Beat well with enough cooked salad dressing to make a thick paste (about one-third cup of dressing should be sufficient). Pack peppers tight with this mixture. Chill overnight, and the next day slice thin crosswise, and serve overlapping slices on lettuce.

Cooked dressing: two tablespoons melted butter blended with one-half tablespoon flour in top of double boiler. Add one-half cup milk and cook until it thickens, stirring all the time. Beat yolk of one egg and add to it salt, cayenne, one-half tablespoon sugar, one-half teaspoon dry mustard and one-fourth cup vinegar. Stir this mixture into butter, flour and milk combination, and cook until thick. Remove from fire and pour on stiffly beaten white of one egg.

MEAT LOAF SAUCES
TOMATO FOUNDATION

Cook two cups canned tomatoes for 10 minutes. Season with salt and pepper. Strain. Heat a little butter, add one-half teaspoon mustard, dash of paprika and two teaspoons Worcestershire sauce. Blend well, add tomato and heat thoroughly.

Cook one cup canned tomatoes with one minced small onion, one-half bay leaf, two cloves, one-half teaspoon sugar, one-quarter teaspoon salt and a little pepper for about 10 minutes. Press through a sieve.

Add to two tablespoons butter blended with one and one-half tablespoons flour in hot saucepan. Stir constantly until it begins to boil, then simmer five minutes.

EVAPORATED MILK

Whipped evaporated milk is much less expensive than whipped cream, and it is really very good with desserts, hot chocolate, etc. Scald one cup evaporated milk until a scum forms on top. While the milk is scalding soak one-half teaspoon plain gelatine in two teaspoons cold water. Stir into the hot milk, and cool. Chill thoroughly and then beat until stiff. Sweeten and flavor as desired. One cup milk measured before whipping should make three cups of whipped.

SCALLOPED SHRIMPS

Melt one-quarter cup butter or cooking fat and stir in one-quarter cup flour, one-half teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon paprika and a dash of cayenne. Add two cups milk and stir until thickened and smooth. Next add one cup cooked or canned shrimp broken in pieces. Pour into a buttered baking dish, sprinkle with one-quarter cup grated cheese and one-half cup coarse bread crumbs and bake in a hot oven for eight to 10 minutes. Serves four.

GOOD MERINGUE

A woman who has great success with meringue pies tells us that this is her secret: when she breaks the eggs for the filling, she immediately puts the whites in a bowl on the ice until thoroughly chilled. She then adds two tablespoons of granulated sugar for every egg white used. Beat the whites 'till until stiff and dry, add sugar, beat again and return to icebox to chill again. Spread over partly cooked pie and brown quickly in hot oven.

PORK TENDERLOIN NOW AT RECORD LOW PRICE

No Waste on This Meat So It Is a Real Food Bargain.

At the time of this writing pork tenderloin is only 40 cents per pound, the lowest we are assured it has ever been. It's a great food bargain at that price, for there is no waste on a tenderloin, and one buys solid meat.

Delicate in flavor, it is acceptable to those who do not usually care for pork, and doubly appetizing to others who do like this meat.

One of the best methods of cooking is to have the butcher "French" it, that is, to cut in pieces and flatten each piece out. Dusted with seasoned flour and baked about 35 minutes with a little water in the bottom of the pan, sweet potatoes browned in the same pan, and tart apple sauce as an accompaniment—what could be better?

Baked stuffed tenderloin is another delicacy. Again have the tenderloins Frenched, but not cut in pieces as the whole loin is best. Stuff with dressing, tie with string and bake about an hour.

From California comes an apricot and green pepper stuffing which goes well with tenderloin, and includes the following ingredients:

One cup dried apricots, four cups stale bread crumbs, one-fourth cup melted butter, one-half teaspoon sage, one-half teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, one-half cup chopped green pepper.
Boil apricots two minutes, drain, cool and slice. Blend bread crumbs with sage, thyme, salt and pepper. Add apricots, green pepper, butter and mix together. Moisten with water.

Staffed Apples.
Core, but do not peel red apples, one for each person, making a large cavity in each one. Take one package of cream cheese, to which has been added one-fourth cup of chopped nuts, four tablespoons of chopped olives and a dash of celery salt. Put this mixture in the cavity of each apple and chill.

FRUIT BREADS ARE WHOLESOME CHANGES

Prunes, Apricots and Oranges Are Delicious Flavors.

For the children's school lunch-box, afternoon tea and Sunday night suppers, there is nothing more appetizing than one of the fruit breads which are so popular this winter.

Combined with cream cheese, mayonnaise mixed with chopped nuts or jelly, the new breads make good sandwiches, or are fine just cut very thin, and buttered lightly.

Prune Graham Bread.

Beat one egg well, add one and one-fourth cups of brown sugar, one teaspoon of salt, and two tablespoons of butter or fat. Stir one teaspoon of soda in one cup of sour milk. Have ready one cup unsifted graham flour and one and one-half cups all purpose flour to which one-fourth teaspoon of cream of tartar or baking powder has been added. Add milk mixture alternately with graham and white flour. Continue until all flour and one cup of sour milk is used. Add one cup of stewed prunes, one-half cup of prune juice and one cup of chopped nuts. Beat well together and turn into a medium sized greased loaf pan—bake in a slow oven for one hour and one-half to one and one-half hours. If sweet milk is used omit soda, and use four teaspoons of baking powder.

Apricot Nut Bread.

Wash one and one-half cups dried apricots, boil five minutes and drain and chop. Cream one-half cup sugar with two tablespoons of shortening, add one beaten egg and one cup of sour milk. Combine with one cup of bran, apricots and one-half cup of chopped nuts, beat thoroughly. Add two cups of flour sifted with five teaspoons of baking powder, one-half teaspoon of salt, one-half teaspoon of soda. Mix well and pour into a greased bread pan and bake one hour in a slow oven.

Orange Peel Bread.

Add to one cup of scalded milk two tablespoons of shortening, three tablespoons of molasses and one and one-half teaspoon of yeast. When lukewarm, add one yeast cake dissolved in one-third cup of lukewarm water. Add one and one-half cup of bread flour and one and one-half cup of graham flour, mix well, then add one-half cup of candied orange peel and one-half

APRICOT AND LEMON REFRIGERATOR MOUSSE

Prepare one and one-fourth cups of apricot pulp by rubbing through a coarse sieve. Add three tablespoons of lemon juice and four tablespoons of sugar and stir until all the sugar is dissolved. Soak four teaspoons of gelatin in four tablespoons of cold water; take two tablespoons of this gelatin and dissolve over hot water. Add this gelatin to the apricot mixture. Cool. Whip one and one-half cups of cream stiff, add one-half cup of powdered sugar and one and one-half teaspoon of vanilla. Add the remaining gelatin. Cool. Pour this mixture on top of the apricot mixture after the apricot mixture has begun to set in the tray.

Coffee Fudding.

Cream two egg yolks, one-half cup of butter and one cup of confectioner's sugar until thoroughly blended. Add five tablespoons of strong coffee and one teaspoon of vanilla. Have 18 lady fingers ready and place in a dish a layer of them, then add the sauce, alternating until all material is used. Let stand several hours in the refrigerator. Serve with whipped cream.

CANNED FRUITS GROW IN GENERAL FAVOR

Pineapple Is One of the Most Practical for Frequent Use.

Canned fruits, due to the excellent process of canning used by reliable companies, retain practically all the vital qualities of fresh fruit, and are almost equal in flavor.

The one thing to be sure in buying canned fruit is to get reliable brands, and then to keep a varied supply on hand for the morning when there is no fresh fruit for breakfast, to substitute now and then for the cooked dessert, and to use in fruit salads.

Pineapple is especially good canned, whether in slices or pulp. And, what makes it of interest to some women, it is one of the fruits often recommended in reducing diets.

A pineapple and tomato appetizer is a good way to start the dinner, made as follows: Drain juice from one can of pineapple, add equal amount of tomato juice, season to taste with salt, pepper and sugar. Chill well and serve in small glasses. Use the slices of pineapple from the can for salad next day.

Pineapple and sausage cakes are fine for breakfast or lunch. Slice slices of pineapple in butter. (Brown lightly, but do not try hard). Cook sausage cakes as usual, and place on the pineapple slices.

A salad mold is made by dissolving one package lemon gelatin in one pint boiling water and pineapple juice mixed. When gelatin is cool and begins to thicken, fold in one-half cup sliced oranges, one-half cup grapes seeded and cut in half, and one-third cup diced pineapple. Turn into large wet mold and chill. Serve with mayonnaise or a spicy fruit dressing.

And some Sunday night for supper, try pineapple rice croquettes. Drain one and one-third cups crushed pineapple thoroughly. Combine with two cups of cooked rice, mixing lightly with fork. Be sure that the rice has been cooked well, so that the grains separate nicely. Form into six croquettes, roll each in two eggs slightly beaten, to which one tablespoon water has been added, then roll in crumbs and fry in deep, hot fat. These croquettes are very good with chicken or creamed crab or shrimp.

Oyster Balls.

Cook one dozen oysters in their own liquid until the edges begin to curl. Drain and chop. Fry one-half pound of sausage meat, stirring while cooking to separate. Chop the oysters and add the crumbled sausage meat and one beaten egg. Mix, add salt and pepper and roll in cracker crumbs, then in beaten egg and again in cracker crumbs. Fry in deep hot fat. Serve and garnish with lemon slices and dill pickle.

HAM AND VEAL

WITH APRICOT SAUCE

Place one slice of ham between two slices of veal, fasten with toothpicks. Put in roaster with one cup of hot water and bake in hot oven for 20 minutes. Reduce heat and continue cooking 40 minutes more.

Take from oven and cover with sauce made by stewing apricots in the usual way. Sprinkle lightly with brown sugar and return to oven for about 20 minutes.

TURKEY SANDWICH

Make layers of finely sliced white meat of turkey, thin slice of ham, shaving of cranberry jelly. Place on open slices of bread. Top with generous amount of mayonnaise and serve with coffee after the movie, or for Sunday night supper.

Salted Crackers. Butter soda crackers lightly, dust with paprika, and crisp in hot oven. Or sprinkle crackers with cheese, then a slight touch of paprika, and heat.

Don't coax an appetite—CREATE one!

Ralston
Wheat Cereal
now enriched with added vitamin B actually creates eager appetites.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

Bread Sticks.

When making white bread, break off small portions of the dough and roll with hands into pencil-like sticks. Let rise until very light, then bake about 15 minutes in hot oven.

Fruit Balls.

Take one-half cup each of stewed prunes, apricots, stoned dates, raisins, figs and nut meats. Do not chop fruit. Put through meat chopper, shape in small balls and roll in powdered sugar.

Harmful Acids found in 455 Toilet Tissues

THESE TESTS WERE MADE in a nationally known laboratory. 660 brands of toilet tissue were examined—brands purchased at retail in stores in different sections of the country. 455 of these brands were found to contain harmful amounts of irritating acids.

Tests of 660 brands show 2 out of 3
Unsafe because of Strong Acidity
... Some actually found to contain Dangerous Chemicals ... Aluminum,
Mercury, even Arsenic

Many cases of serious illness attributed to the widespread use of inferior tissues ... Tests prove SCOTTISSUE and WALDORF meet the accepted standards of medical safety:

WHEN YOU BUY toilet tissue without specifying the brand of a responsible manufacturer, you are taking a serious risk of endangering your family's health.

For actually two out of three of the so-called "brands" sold today are unsafe.

This was proved recently in a hospital laboratory. 660 brands were tested—chemically and microscopically.

The detailed report shows that 455 of these 660 toilet tissues are decidedly inferior and contain chemical impurities which are an actual menace to health.

Strong acids (hydrochloric and sulphurous), mercury, aluminum, sand, chlorine—and even arsenic were found. In addition 270 of these toilet tissues contained unsafe quantities of abrasive wood splinters. In every test, the two health tissues, ScottTissue and Waldorf, conformed to accepted standards of medical safety.

No harsh irritants were found. Both ScottTissue and Waldorf were extremely soft and cloth-like, absolutely pure, with a high degree of absorbency.

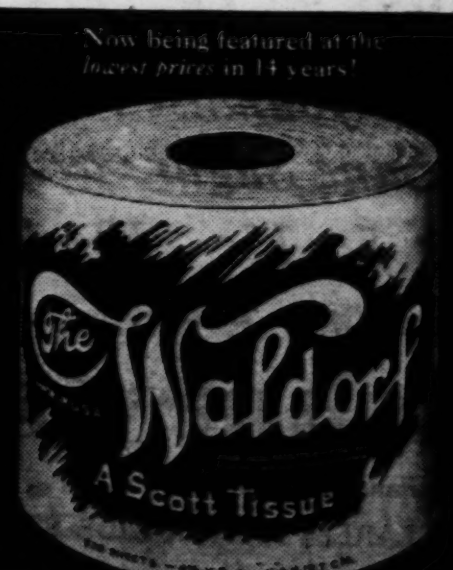

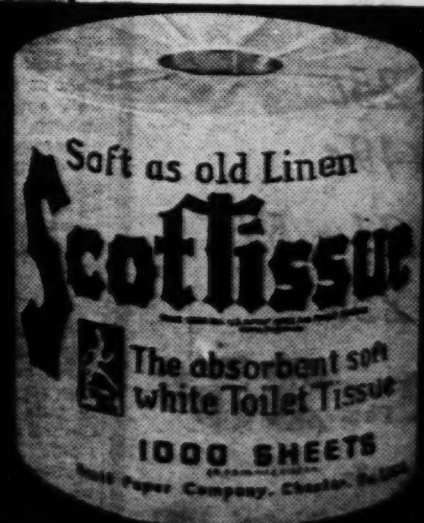

It doesn't pay to take chances. Rectal trouble is a serious, painful malady, often requiring an operation.

Be sure of safety. Always call for ScottTissue or Waldorf by name. Never say "some toilet tissue, please." Remember, two out of three brands are unsafe.

MEDICALLY SAFE!

The above tests showed that ScottTissue and Waldorf are absolutely safe—entirely free from harsh irritants ... and chemically pure. These extremely soft, absorbent health tissues have always been approved for safety by doctors, hospitals and health authorities.

flounder or haddock, blue fish, shad, etc., may be cooked in the same way.
APRICOT RECIPES
To make a good conserve, cover three pounds apricots with warm water, soak overnight. In the morning add one more cup of water and two and a half pounds sugar. Cook slowly till somewhat thick. Add two cups grated pineapple and one-fourth pound almonds cut fine. Cook slowly until very thick.
For apricot fluff, force two cups of cooked apricots through sieve, add one-half cup powdered sugar, fold in one-half cup whipped cream and one-half cup shredded cocoanut.

POPULAR INNOVATIONS NOW IN PIE CRUSTS
Graham Crackers, Zwieback and Vanilla Wafers Used in Pastry.
The foundation of many pies now is not the old-fashioned pastry, but cracker crumbs mixed with shortening. The flavor and texture are decidedly different, and very good indeed.
Many who have difficulty in making good pie crust find the new method much easier. Recipes are given below and also suitable fillings for the new pies.
Graham Cracker Pie.
Roll graham crackers to fine crumbs and measure two and one-half cupsful. Mix with three-fourths cup sugar and one-half cup melted butter. When thoroughly blended press around the sides and on the bottom of a pie pan. Beat four eggs until light, add one-half cup sugar and then stir in gradually four cups scalded milk. Add one-half teaspoon salt and one-fourth teaspoon grated nutmeg. Pour into the pieplate, and bake in a moderate oven for 40 minutes, or until the custard is firm. Reduce the heat slightly if necessary. Cool, cover with meringue or whipped cream and serve very cold. One large package of Graham crackers makes two and one-half cups crumbs.
Cream Pie Filling.
Mix three-fourths cup sugar with three tablespoons cornstarch and one-half teaspoon salt. Add two eggs and beat until creamy. Scald three cups milk, add gradually to the sugar mixture and return to the saucepan. Stir constantly over a slow fire until smooth, thickened and boiling. Cool slightly, add two teaspoons vanilla, or one teaspoon coffee essence or three squares melted unsweetened chocolate. Pour into a pieplate lined with graham cracker crust and set aside to cool. Chill thoroughly and cover with whipped cream or whipped evaporated milk, sweetened and flavored. One cup shredded cocoanut may be added to the filling to make a cocoanut pie, or one-half cup mashed ripe bananas to make a banana cream pie.
Pineapple Zwieback Pie.
Beat four egg yolks until light and creamy, all one cup sugar, mixed with two teaspoons cornstarch, one-fourth cup lemon juice, the grated rind of one-half lemon and one cup canned crushed pineapple. Cook over hot water until thick, stirring constantly. Remove from the fire, add the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs and fold over and over until thoroughly blended.
Roll zwieback to fine crumbs, measure two and one-half cupsful, add three-fourths cup sugar and six tablespoons melted butter. When well blended cover the bottom and sides of a pieplate with the mixture, pressing it firmly in place. Fill with the pineapple mixture and chill. Cover with a meringue made from the remaining egg whites and five tablespoons powdered sugar.
For lemon pie, use the recipe above, omitting the pineapple and increasing the lemon juice to one-third cup, using the rind of a whole lemon, and adding one-half cup water.
Vanilla Wafer Crust.
Roll one-fourth pound vanilla wafers to fine crumbs and mix with one-fourth cup melted butter. Use these to line the bottom of the pieplate. Line the sides with the small wafers, placing them close together. Fill with lemon, pineapple or any of the fillings given above.

COTTAGE PUDDING
Beat one egg with one-half cup sugar, add one cup flour sifted with one teaspoon baking powder and one-third teaspoon salt. Add one-third cup of milk, three tablespoons melted butter and one teaspoon vanilla.
Mix thoroughly and bake in greased pan in moderate oven for about 25 minutes. Serve with any pudding sauce.

THREE SUGGESTIONS FOR BRIDGE REFRESHMENTS
Jellied fruit or vegetable salad (individual molds), crisp crackers and small cream puffs filled with crushed canned pineapple and coffee.
Fruit cup, cream cheese, conserve, jam or marmalade, a variety of crisp unsweetened crackers and a hot beverage.
Creamed oysters, mushrooms or shrimp on toast, with crisp celery, olives and coffee.

DUMPLINGS
Sift one cup flour, two teaspoons baking powder and one-half teaspoon salt. Beat one egg light and add to flour. Rinse the bowl in which flour is mixed with about one-third cup of milk which will make a soft dough with the flour.
Take a spoon and divide dough into six portions and drop around any boiling meat. Cover and cook 15 minutes without moving lid.
HERRING TOAST
Mix one cup flaked smoked herring with two tablespoons melted butter, one teaspoon lemon juice, one tablespoon minced green pepper, one-fourth teaspoon paprika. Heat well, stirring constantly.
Put on hot toast and garnish with a minced yolk of hard-boiled egg.
Onions.
For more delicate flavor, parboil onions for 5 minutes, then drain and finish cooking in fresh water.

Pineapple Salad.
Take six slices of canned pineapple, placing one on each nest of lettuce. Over pineapple slices put a small mound of seeded white grapes, cut in half. Serve with French dressing.

Roll zwieback to fine crumbs, measure two and one-half cupsful, add three-fourths cup sugar and six tablespoons melted butter. When well blended cover the bottom and sides of a pieplate with the mixture, pressing it firmly in place. Fill with the pineapple mixture and chill. Cover with a meringue made from the remaining egg whites and five tablespoons powdered sugar.
For lemon pie, use the recipe above, omitting the pineapple and increasing the lemon juice to one-third cup, using the rind of a whole lemon, and adding one-half cup water.

Vanilla Wafer Crust.
Roll one-fourth pound vanilla wafers to fine crumbs and mix with one-fourth cup melted butter. Use these to line the bottom of the pieplate. Line the sides with the small wafers, placing them close together. Fill with lemon, pineapple or any of the fillings given above.

COLOR SCHEMES BRIGHTEN MEALS
Try for color in menus this time of year. When days are gray and bleak, colorful foods help to brighten things up. For instance, a Sunday breakfast may be in tones of yellow—sliced oranges served on amber glass plates with strained honey for sweetening, a puffy golden omelet with whole wheat muffins, coffee and a dash of red in strawberry jam—such a meal has big possibilities on a February morning.
Paprika or red pimentos for garnishing potatoes, cauliflower and other pale colored foods, minced parsley for them, too, golden squares of fried bread, fruits of all kinds with meat or in salads, beets, peas, carrots and tomatoes—give opportunity to combine colors in foods with attractive results. It makes eating more of a pleasure.

GERMAN PEA SOUP
Soak two cups of split peas over night in water enough to cover. Drain next morning, then cook in two quarts of water until tender. Press through a sieve.
Fry one slice fat bacon and two mushrooms, finely chopped. Add to peas with two stalks of celery, three sprigs of parsley and two chopped onions. Simmer until vegetables are tender, add pepper and salt.

Cheese Bread.
Cut bread in strips lengthwise, spread with butter, sprinkle with grated cheese, seasoned with salt and pepper, bake until delicately brown. Garnish with finely cropped ripe olives.

Sweet-Sour Beets.
Make a sauce of one-half cup sugar, two tablespoons cornstarch, one cup vinegar and cook five minutes. Add two tablespoons butter, and pour over canned or fresh cooked beets. Let simmer a few minutes.

High-Strung Children.
More rest periods are needed for children, who often have too full a program every day. School, other lessons, home work and too many amusements deplete the young vitality. Even if a child will not sleep, a brief time spent every afternoon relaxed on the bed will do wonders for the nervous boy or girl.

"And two cans of WHITE BANNER -O.K. Mrs. Jones"

"JUST why does this grocer smile?" you ask. That's easy. Simply because, like all wise merchants, he wants only contented customers, and he knows White Banner quality never fails to satisfy all who want the finest malt obtainable. There can be no better than the best—and "best" describes White Banner in one word. Moreover, its supreme quality is always the same—in January or July—last year—this year—next year—always. And, on top of top quality, you get valuable premiums in exchange for the labels.

Write for Lene's Free Recipe Book for delicious foods and condiments, also free catalog of valuable White Banner Malt Premiums. Address: Premium Malt Sales Co., 100 N. Broadway, St. Louis, Mo.

CHICKEN SANDWICHES ARE ALWAYS A TREAT

Liver and Onion Seasoning and Waffle Combination
Are Good.

There's a little bridge club which for the past year has made a rule that chicken sandwiches and coffee are to be the refreshments, and many a new way of preparing the sandwiches has been discovered by the members. In fact, it's almost a point of honor to try to have a different sort of sandwich at each meeting.

Chicken sandwich was one of the first offerings, with thin slices of the chicken covered by crisp pieces of bacon on toast, another piece of toast with tomato slice covered with Thousand Island dressing.

A chicken liver sandwich won praise made as follows: Four chicken livers soaked in salted water for half an hour, drained and dried. Then cut small and added to one teaspoon of minced onion which was cooked for a few minutes in one tablespoon butter. All was browned slightly, then three tablespoons water were added, and the mixture simmered for 10 minutes. Drain, chop fine, add salt and paprika, and mashed yolks of two hard-boiled eggs, with enough mayonnaise to spread easily.

But the most popular so far, has been a chicken waffle sandwich. A section of waffle is placed on a serving plate, and covered with thin slices of hot chicken. Minced celery moistened with mayonnaise is sprinkled over the chicken, and then hot chicken gravy is poured over all.

HAMBURGER AND SAUSAGE FOR ECONOMY MEALS

Season hamburger steak with salt, pepper and a little minced onion. Toast slices of bread on one side, cover the untoasted side with a thick layer of the meat, dot with two or three little pieces of butter and broil for 5 to 8 minutes. Crumble one-half pound sausage meat and fry until crisp in a hot frying pan, pour off most of the fat and stir in six beaten eggs mixed with one-half cup milk or water and a little salt. Stir constantly and cook slowly until thickened. Serve with parsley garnish.

SALMON SOUFFLE

Melt one-fourth cup butter or cooking fat, add one-fourth cup flour and when well blended, stir in one and one-half cups milk. Stir until thick and boiling, then pour gradually, beating constantly, over the beaten yolks of three eggs. Add one teaspoon salt, a dash of cayenne pepper, and one tablespoon lemon juice.

Next add the contents of a pound can of salmon, flaked with a fork, and the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs. Pour into a greased baking dish, sprinkle with fine buttered breadcrumbs and bake in a moderate oven.

Rice and Cheese Loaf

Mix one cup grated cheese with three cups boiled rice, one-half cup bread crumbs, one beaten egg and season with salt and pepper. Bake in greased pan for about 45 minutes. Serve with white sauce seasoned with two tablespoons minced parsley and two tablespoons lemon juice.

Tomato Juice

Hot canned tomato juice flavored with bouillon cubes makes a delicious clear soup for dinner, and can be made very quickly. Use canned tomato juice for jellied tomato salads when you are in a hurry and do not want to bother cooking and straining tomatoes.

LEMON SAUCE FOR BROCCOLI AND CAULIFLOWER

Cook broccoli uncovered to keep it a brighter green, and cook only long enough to make it tender. The very thick ends of the stalks should be cut off, leaving pieces about four to six inches long. The leaves, that is the smaller ones, may be boiled and used to make a very good cream soup.

A simply made sauce for cauliflower or broccoli is this: Melt two tablespoons butter, add one-fourth cup water in which the vegetable is cooked, and one tablespoon lemon juice. Season with salt, pepper and paprika, and then pour gradually into a well-beaten egg.

The liquid mixture should be boiling hot. The sauce will thicken slightly and requires no cooking. Pour over the vegetable and serve.

MARSHMALLOW ROLL WITH DATES AND NUTS

Crush six graham crackers. Reserve one-third of crumbs. To the remainder add one-half cup stoned and finely cut dates, seven marshmallows cut in pieces and one-half cup broken nuts.

Add two tablespoons of thin cream, mix, form in roll and cover with the reserved cracker crumbs. Roll in wax paper, place in refrigerator for 24 hours.

Slice the next day and serve with whipped cream.

Salad Charges

Escarole, romaine, French endive, watercress and new cabbage are all available for salads now—radishes are not too expensive for occasional use, and cucumbers are coming in cheaper now. Serve them crisp and cold with French dressing.

RESEARCH REVEALS ALL-BRAN RICH IN HEALTH-ELEMENTS

Helps Correct Constipation with "Bulk" and Vitamin B;
Also Has Iron

Recent scientific research shows that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN contains two things needed to overcome temporary and recurring constipation. It has "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract.

These two important food-elements promote regular habits, and help to do away with the headaches, loss of appetite and energy, so often the result of constipation.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is mild in action—much like that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes. Special coating processes make ALL-BRAN finer, softer, more palatable.

Isn't this pleasant "cereal way" far more healthful than using pills and drugs—so often habit-forming?

Just eat two tablespoons of Kellogg's daily—enough for most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Besides, ALL-BRAN brings your body twice as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver.

Equally tasty as a cereal with milk or cream, or used in cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

PLANNING THE MENU: RECIPES FOR WEEK

Desirability of Well Cooked
Pot Roast, With Vegetables Is Stressed.

In the menus for the week published in this section, pot roast will be found listed for Sunday dinner. There are many poor excuses offered for pot roast, when it can be so good if prepared just right. And that makes simmering slowly and long. Then again, careful selection of the meat is another factor in its success.

Tastily flavored with vegetables, cooked until it is really tender, and with rich gravy, there's no better meat than pot roast. The hash from the left-overs and gravy is good, too.

Do you ever try a vegetarian dinner? We list one for Wednesday evening on the week's menus. Onion soup, a most substantial beginning to the meal, potatoes stuffed with cheese, and other vegetables, make up a delicious menu.

Pot Roast.
Buy four pounds of chuck. Wipe meat and rub a mixture of one tablespoon flour, one teaspoon salt and one-fourth teaspoon pepper into surface. Brown on all sides in three tablespoons fat. Add one and one-half cups boiling water, cover closely and simmer for about three hours. Add additional water, if necessary.

At the end of this time, add four sliced carrots, four sliced onions, four quartered potatoes, one can tomato soup, and cook three-fourths hour more. Thicken gravy with one and one-half tablespoons flour rubbed smooth in a little cold water.

Some like the flavor if two whole cloves are pressed into the meat when it is first put on.

Cranberry Conserve.
This is one of the best winter fruit concoctions and will keep if covered with paraffin in jelly glasses. Chop one quart of cranberries rather coarse, add one cup of halved, seeded raisins, one cup water, grated rind of one orange, two sliced oranges. Cook 15 minutes, then add two and one-half cups sugar, cook five minutes longer. Stir in one-half cup chopped nuts and turn into glasses.

Baked Stuffed Potatoes.
Select large potatoes, grate and make in hot oven for about one hour. Then cut a slice from top of each when done, scoop out pulp, mash, adding salt, pepper and butter and a little milk. When light and fluffy, add one cup of grated cheese to six potatoes and a dash of paprika. Refill potato shells and brown in hot oven.

Beet Salad.
Boil fresh beets until tender or use canned beets. Scoop out centers, being careful not to break beets. Marinate one hour in French dressing (cover with dressing and let stand), then drain, fill beets with diced green peppers, celery cut very fine, and dash of minced onions. Top with mayonnaise.

Onion Soup.
Peel and slice four large onions very thin. Cook in one-third cup of butter until almost brown, simmering about half an hour. Add one quart of milk or soup stock, bring to boiling point. Season with salt and pepper and pour over a slice of buttered toast in each soup dish. Grated cheese may be added to the soup, but it is omitted in this menu as cheese is included in the stuffed potatoes for the same dinner.

Stuffed Peppers With Sausage.
Cut off tops of six peppers, remove seeds and fiber. Drop in boiling water, remove from fire and let stand 10 minutes. Drain. Mix one cup cooked sausage meat and one cup cooked hominy, season with salt and pepper and moisten with milk. Fill peppers and cover tops with buttered crumbs. Set in baking pan with a little water in bottom of pan. Bake in moderate oven about 20 minutes. Serve with tomato sauce.

Crab Souffle.
Two cups cooked salted macaroni, four tablespoons butter, four tablespoons flour, two cups milk, one teaspoon salt, eight teaspoons grated cheese, three egg yolks, beaten; one cup flaked crab meat, one cup asparagus tips, six slices of tomato.

Make a cream sauce by melting butter, adding flour and mixing well. Add the milk and cook until smooth. Add two teaspoons of cheese and salt. Mix a little of the sauce with the egg yolks, then add the egg yolks to the cream sauce. Add the crab, asparagus and macaroni. Put in casserole, place in pan of hot water and bake in slow oven. Ten minutes before serving arrange slices of egg white on top of the crab and macaroni mixture, place a teaspoon of the cheese on each slice. Place under broiler and brown carefully.

SWEET POTATO CAKES WITH HAM AND RAISINS
Mix well together one cup of cold mashed potatoes, one teaspoon of salt, one tablespoon of sugar, one tablespoon of mustard, one-eighth teaspoon of pepper and one-quarter cup of milk. Three-quarters cup of chopped ham, one-half cup of flour and one teaspoon of baking powder and knead into firm mixture. Pat out on a slightly floured board to cakes of one-half inch thickness. Put in a greased pan and bake in a hot oven until brown. Serve with this salad sauce:

To one-half pound of seeded raisins add one quart of cold water and cook until the raisins become soft. Add one cup brown sugar, one-quarter cup of vinegar, one teaspoon olive oil and one tablespoon of butter. Beat for several minutes and serve hot.

19 MORE TRAFFIC GUIDES TO BE PLACED ON GRAVOIS AV.

Concrete cones to be built in section in which P. S. Co. seeks to abandon tracks.

Nineteen concrete cones to protect pedestrians and guide traffic at cross streets will be installed by the Street Department at eight intersections in widened Gravois avenue. The crossings are at Nebraska avenue, Oregon avenue, California avenue and Peralta street, Iowa avenue, Lynch street and Ohio avenue, Shenandoah and McNair avenues, Texas avenue and Victor street.

Heretofore similar cones have been placed in the center of Gravois avenue at 17 other intersections and automatic traffic signals have been placed in service at 14 intersections in Gravois and connecting streets. The 19 new cones will be placed in the section between Mississippi avenue and Arsenal street, where the Public Service Co. is seeking to abandon its car lines. Temporary paving has been laid in the space that would be occupied by car tracks. The City Engineer has held that installation of the cones would not prejudice the city's opposition to abandonment of the trolley line. Conducts to carry wires for lights on the cones were placed before the street was paved.

SERVICES FOR EDGAR WALLACE

Writer's Body Being Taken From Hollywood to England.

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Feb. 12.—The body of Edgar Wallace, noted English writer of mystery thrillers who died here Wednesday of pneumonia, is being taken to New York to be placed aboard the Berengaria, sailing Monday night for London. Robert G. Curtis, Wallace's secretary, and Robert Brown, valet, accompanied the body.

Memorial services were held in Hollywood last night. They were arranged by the RKO-Radio Studios, for which Wallace was writing stories. Among those attending were Mary Pickford, David O. Selznick, John McCormack, Steve Donoghue, Sam Maritza, Virginia Bedford, Walter Huston and Bayard Veiller.

CHRISTOPHER DARLEN FUNERAL

Funeral services for Christopher Darlen, Civil War veteran, who died Wednesday of the influenza, of age, will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow from the Hoffmeister Undertaking Co., 7814 South Broadway. Interment will be in St. Paul's Churchyard.

Darlen, who was 94 years old, served with the Tenth Missouri Infantry. At the battle of Gettysburg he suffered wounds necessitating the amputation of his left arm.

JEFFERSON BARRACKS BUSES

WILL REPLACE STREET CARS

State Commission Grants Permission for Substitution of Cars.

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 12.—Abandonment of the Jefferson Barracks street car line of the St. Louis Public Service Co. was authorized by the Missouri Public Service Commission yesterday, upon an application by the company conditional upon the substitution of motorbus service, with the same rates of fare now charged on the street car line. The order is effective in 10 days.

The line to be abandoned extends from the intersection of Broadway and Catalan street, in St. Louis, to the terminus of the line on the Jefferson Barracks reservation, two and nine-tenths miles.

One of the reasons for the application by the company for permission to abandon the line was the plan of St. Louis County to repave Broadway, from the city limits to the Jefferson Barracks reservation. The company estimated the cost of rebuilding and relocating its tracks in connection with the improvement at $125,000. The commission order authorized the Public Service Co. to remove its tracks, poles and overhead wires.

'IT'S MY HOME, HERE I STAY,' SAYS BRITON IN FIRING ZONE

SHANGHAI, Feb. 12.—During yesterday's brief truce in fighting most of the non-combatants in Woonung were brought out, but one of them, the only foreigner now living in the village, refused to leave. He is Capt. Frederick Davis of the British navy, retired, who runs a waterfront hotel in Woonung. Both the Japanese and Chinese know he is there and in all the firing bullets have struck his hotel only a few times. It is the only building along the waterfront which has not been smashed to pieces.

Not once since the bombardment began has he left the place, and during that time he has lived on canned goods and chickens he keeps in a back room. His vegetable garden has been shot to pieces and his dog is missing.

Gen. Kumaya Shimomoto, Commander-in-Chief of the Japanese troops at Woonung, asked the British authorities to get Capt. Davis out of there but he refused to go. "This is my home," he said, "and here I stay."

FREED FROM PRISON, ABSOLVED OF CRIME

ALVERNON L. LYTLE

SERVED more than two years of a 10-year sentence for robbing a bank at Minden, Neb., then was declared innocent when John Webster confessed the robbery. Lytle was met at the prison gate by his wife and 18-month-old child. Attempts are being made to pass a bill through the Nebraska Legislature to compensate Lytle for the time he served in prison. Lytle says he has "no hard feelings" toward anybody, but his fondest hope right now is for his father to get back his job as deputy sheriff. The father was fired when the son was convicted.

Increase in Shoe Production.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Shoe factories increased their output in 1931 4 per cent over that of 1930. The Commerce Department reported today that the total output of boots and shoes, other than rubber, during 1931 was 316,239,809 pairs, as compared with 304,169,748 pairs in 1930. Shoe production in the United States rose steadily from 1924 to 1929 when 361,402,000 pairs were manufactured, but during 1930 production fell off sharply.

TENTATIVE PLAN TO RAISE INCOME AND GIFT TAXES

ness the small operator or retailer will find it difficult to ply his nefarious trade.

Defends His Proposal.

"Those who argue the Government should not tax the bootleg business, fail to realize that if incomes from illicit operations are exempted from or permitted to escape taxation, while incomes from lawful operations are not, the criminal is rewarded and the honest man is punished.

Other McAdoo Proposals.

McAdoo proposed taxes on imported crude oil and gasoline; on passports for the rest of 1932; and on the initial offering of all foreign securities in the United States. He suggested increasing surtaxes on large incomes, especially those above $100,000, but warned that the heavier that tax the "greater the inducement to owners of large incomes to escape it by investing in tax-exempt securities."

"Already," he said, "there are more than $30,000,000,000 of tax exempt bonds in the United States."

Declaring a larger portion of the nation's debt had been paid than should have been "justly apportioned to the present generation," McAdoo suggested meeting the $2,000,000,000 Treasury deficit by funding 80 per cent of it in long time obligations and raising the rest through taxation.

He opposed a tax on domestic gasoline, but said an import duty on this and oil would provide substantial revenue and tend to "revive domestic oil industry" from a "flood" of foreign oil.

Effect of Passport Tax.

A tax on passports, with a reduction on those sought by persons going abroad on necessary business, he said, would stimulate American summer resorts and American trade in thousands of directions with marked benefits to the economic situation.

As for his proposal to tax initial offerings of foreign securities, he said:

"The evidence developed by Senator Johnson in his recent investigation of foreign bonds sold in our markets will doubtless put an end to or greatly reduce such offerings for the present, but the time is opportune to establish the policy and it should have a salutary effect. This form of taxation is not without precedent in other countries."

Beer Petition in House.

As a means of obtaining revenue, Representative Welch (Rep.) of California urged on the floor that the manufacture of malt beverage of higher alcoholic content be permitted.

"I am presenting to the House," Welch said, "a petition signed by over 4000 farmers of California, owners of 1,400,000 acres of land, urging Congress to provide for the manufacture of malt beverages of a higher alcoholic content than now permitted so that their surplus grain can be used in its manufacture."

"Here is where the Ways and Means Committee can secure an annual sum of $400,000,000 in taxes and the only industry that will be crippled will be the bootleg industry. Such a procedure would place several hundred thousand men to work and would absorb 125,000,000 bushels of grain now in elevators."

DRUNKENNESS UNDER DRY LAW CITED AT 4 PCT. BEER HEARING

Arrests "Started Upward Very Abruptly" After Prohibition, Senate Group Hears.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—A statement that arrests for drunkenness "started upward very abruptly" after prohibition went into effect was made before a Senate committee today by Stanley Shirk, New York, research director of the Moderation League. Shirk favored enactment of a bill before the committee to permit 4 per cent beer.

Senator Bingham (Rep.), Connecticut, author of the bill, asked for Shirk's opinion on statements made previously before the committee by witnesses against the bill that statistics for drunkenness arrests were meaningless because the police before prohibition were not as vigilant as they are now. Shirk replied that was a matter of opinion.

Mrs. Clara Halloran Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Clara Halloran, 75 years old, former East St. Louis school teacher, who died of diabetes yesterday at her home, 529 North Twenty-ninth street, East St. Louis, will be held at 9 a. m. Monday at St. Joseph's Church, East St. Louis, with burial in Mount Carmel Cemetery. She was the widow of Eugene Halloran Sr. A son, five daughters and 17 grandchildren survive.

WATCHMAN KILLS HIMSELF

N. e. Indicates He Had Hallucinations About Kidnaping.

Peter J. O'Hara, 60 years old, was found dead with a bullet wound in his head yesterday at the plant of the Laclede Christy Clay Products Co., located on the Frisco right-of-way, 6600 west, where he was employed as a watchman. A revolver was by his side.

A note, written on an envelope, read: "They are figuring on kidnaping and holding me for ransom. I am going to defeat that."

Famous FAST STARTERS

221 FEET A SECOND

OR 150.75 MILES AN HOUR, IS THE WORLD'S RECORD FOR MOTORCYCLES, MADE NEAR CORK, IRELAND, ON NOVEMBER 6, 1930. THE RECORD FOR STARTING MOTORS IN FASTEST TIME ON DAYS OF FREEZING COLD IS HELD BY PHILLIPS 66 GASOLINE. THE REASON IS THAT THIS SENSATIONAL, PERFORMING GASOLINE IS HONEST HIGH TEST. ITS GRAVITY RIGHT NOW RANGES FROM 65° TO 71.4°.

"HIGHEST TEST"

at the price of ordinary gasoline

Phillips 66 volatility is 69.6 per cent higher than the average of 28 competitive gasolines. Proved by unbiased laboratory tests based on distillation at 212 degrees.

You are missing a lot of motor efficiency and passing up real savings in money, if your tank is not filled with Phillips 66... the greater gasoline.

Remember, this is the motor fuel which built sensational sales in record-breaking time. And still is forging ahead with amazing speed. This outstanding public acceptance is based on one thing—higher test gasoline without higher price! Thus, throughout the winter, you get all summer high test benefits—from snappier pick-up to longer mileage. Plus split-second starting in freezing weather.

Remember, too, that Phillips is the world's largest producer of natural high gravity gasoline—which explains why you pay not a penny extra for extra high test gasoline, when you fill up at the Orange and Black 66 shield.

For those who prefer it... Phillips 66 Ethyl... at the regular price of Ethyl Gasoline.

This scientific OIL FLOWS FREELY

32° below freezing

Here is the perfect partner for instant-starting Phillips 66 Gasoline. It is a fine lubricant which flows to all vital engine parts, at the very first movement of the oil pump. It can't get thick and stiff in cold weather because it is completely de-waxed. We sincerely offer it as the world's finest oil for your motor. 30¢ a quart.

Eddie Cantor Charges
BIG LOSS IN TRADING FIRM
Files Suit for Accounting of $100-
000,000 by Goldman-Sachs
Corporation.
NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—The Times says an accounting for $100,000,000 allegedly lost to the Goldman-Sachs Trading Corporation through improper management is sought in a stockholders' action by Eddie Cantor, comedian.
The action, filed at Wilmington, Del., names a group of present and past partners in the banking firm of Goldman-Sachs & Co., certain officers and directors of the trading company, the trading company itself, and the Central States Electric Corporation.
The newspaper quotes Cantor as saying he holds stocks of Goldman-Sachs Trading Corporation for which he paid approximately $350,000 and which now is worth around $7000.

One allegation by Cantor, the paper says, is that the trading corporation was used as a financial "dumping ground" by the banking group.
Walter E. Sachs, president of Goldman-Sachs Trading Corporation and one of the defendants, said he had no knowledge of the Delaware action but that papers had been served on his attorneys in a similar suit by Cantor in New York. Concerning the charges in the latter action Sachs said they "seemed to have no merit" and that they would be "fully met at the proper time in court."
Tuberculosis Society Director,
Dr. H. L. Spector, who succeeded the late Dr. Howard H. Bell as city Tuberculosis Controller, was elected yesterday to fill Dr. Bell's unexpired term as a director of the Tuberculosis and Health Society.

GELBERT, STAR SHORTSTOP OF CARDINALS, JOINS HOLDOUTS

INFIELDER HAS PLAYED WELL IN HIS 3 SEASONS WITH REDBIRDS

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 12.—

Charles Gelbert, crack shortstop of the St. Louis Cardinals, joined the team of baseball's known holdouts today. Sources of information close to the star infielder reveal him as stubbornly refusing the terms offered him by the Cardinals management for next season.

Gelbert, now at Fayetteville, Pa.,

refused to come to the Cardinals office to discuss the matter.

He did not discuss the terms offered him. He has been with the Cardinals three years.

At the offices of the Browns,

Vice President McEvoy stated that he had not heard a word from Gelbert as to whether he would sign his 1932 contract.

ANOTHER LINCOLN' BUREAU IDEA STRESSED BY HOOVER'S BACKERS

Theme Expressed at Dinners Over Country Expected to Be Main Point in Coming Campaign.

WILBUR, SENATORS JOIN IN MOVEMENT

President Is Called 'Most Maligned' Chief Executive Since Emancipator—Conditions Compared.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON, Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. — The concerted effort to "sell" President Hoover to the public as a second Abraham Lincoln, launched last night by radio and otherwise, was a principal subject of political discussion in the capital today. By any it was interpreted as an indication of the tone which Republican managers have adopted for the coming presidential campaign. In more than a dozen cities, from Washington to San Francisco, Lincoln day dinners were staged, at which Republican orators emphasized two themes, namely: that present conditions are comparable to those which followed the Civil War and that Hoover is "the most maligned President" since Lincoln.

Advance copies of all the speeches were given out here from the Republican National Committee headquarters. Although delivered at widely separated places, many of them were so closely alike in phraseology as to suggest that the authors had collaborated. Each dwelt heavily on the idea of Hoover as "another Lincoln."

The President's performance has furnished by the President himself, who spoke over a nationwide radio network from the Lincoln study in the White House, comparing present-day problems with those which confronted Lincoln during and after the war. The President did not liken his own qualities to those of Lincoln, as did many of the Republican orators, but he compared his problems with Lincoln's. "It was in this room from which I am speaking," he said, "that Lincoln labored incessantly night and day for the preservation of the Union. No one can enter here without being sensitive to the invisible influences of the men who have gone before. It was from this window that for five years Lincoln looked across the Potomac upon the under which embattled forces threatened our national unity. Unafraid, he tolled here with patience, understanding, steadfastness, with genius and with courage. "While we are in the midst of the difficulties of this day we may well entertain the feeling that history will record this period as one of the most difficult in its strains and stresses upon the timbers of the Republic that has been experienced since Lincoln's time. "The forces with which we are contending are far less tangible than those of Lincoln's time. We are engaged in a fight upon a hundred fronts just as positive, just as definite, and requiring just as greatly the moral courage, the organized action, the unity of strength, and the sense of devotion to every community as in war."

Other speakers went much further in drawing a resemblance between the Lincoln and Hoover administrations. Speaking at the Lincoln day dinner in Washington, Secretary of Interior Wilbur said: "We are facing another election like that of 1864. People then talked and talked, and then they voted to think and think, and they voted that Abraham Lincoln should stay in the White House just as they will do for Herbert Hoover."

Before the same audience, Senator James Watson of Indiana, Republican floor leader in the Senate, declared: "What President since the sainted Lincoln was ever more maligned and misrepresented than the one radio? No President's name appears who has labored more earnestly to lift the nation out of the slough of despond in which it has been plunged by sheer force of confusion than Herbert Hoover. "At a Lincoln day dinner at Evansville, Ind., Senator Dickinson of Iowa said that "when humanity was in greatest need of a friend, Lincoln was advanced to leadership, and when humanity was suffering most in our day, Herbert Hoover has advanced to leadership. "Yet both were charged with being agents of the privileged classes—Lincoln in 1864, Hoover in 1932." Speaking in Philadelphia, Assistant
